Message from President Brendan J. Dugan '68

Some of our Peer Leaders getting ready to welcome the newest Terriers: Sook Poras '18, Sher Sodoysodoy '18, Anthony Agosto '17, Ashley DeMaria '17, Miasia Kinloch '19, Kurt Dee '17, Arianna Sartzetakis '19 and, Hannah Seymour '18. In addition to helping with Freshman Orientation, these students also take part in SFC 1001, helping new students with the transition to college.

As our students, faculty, and staff return to St. Francis College this fall, we are also graced with the return of Dr. John Sexton. Dr. Sexton began his career in higher education as a professor and chair of our Religious Studies Department. Many of you may know him for his time as President of NYU. Now we are pleased that he is coming home to Brooklyn Heights for a lecture series on religion, government, and baseball. The six-part series is a donation of Dr. Sexton's time and expertise to raise money for scholarships. We hope many of you will register to attend and help Professor Sexton feel at home again (page 2).

Also in this issue you'll learn about alumni who are bringing books to underserved children (page 8), helping female ex-offenders work their way back into society (page 16), and one alumna who is living large (page 20).

Mets owner Fred Wilpon is not a St. Francis alumnus but his generosity in founding the Robert J. McGuire Scholarship shows that he is a firm believer in our Franciscan ideals of helping others. Through a matching grant, Mr. Wilpon is building a community of 60 students who otherwise could not afford a quality, private college education (page 3).

That Franciscan Tradition is alive and well at St. Francis. Beginning Thursday, Sept. 29, we start our annual celebration, St. Clare and St. Francis Week. This year's events will feature a celebration of the "Transitus," a commemoration of the passing of St. Francis. The week concludes with the Blessing of the Animals, always a popular event. We invite you to attend any and all of these events. Find out more at sfc.edu/clareandfrancis.

We hope many of you will make this year the one where you also return to St. Francis College.

John Sexton Returns to SFC

SIX-PART LECTURE SERIES FOR 2016–17

John Sexton wants to talk to you about baseball and God.

Before he was president of NYU, leading the university on a journey of citywide and international growth, Dr. John Sexton first taught at St. Francis College in the Religious Studies Department. Now, he's back in Brooklyn Heights for the Dr. John Sexton Lecture Series, a new fundraiser for the College's scholarship fund.

The first of six talks was held in September, and he'll give five more lectures this academic year. The last one will focus on his book, Baseball as a Road to God: Seeing Beyond the Game.

The remaining lectures will take place on the following Tuesday nights in 2016: Oct. 25, Nov. 29; and in 2017: Feb. 7, March 7, April 25. Register now at sfc.edu/johnsexton. •

Maud Casey Walks Away With $50,000 Literary Prize

Maud Casey signed books at the Brooklyn Book Festival.

Maud Casey's novel, The Man Who Walked Away, topped more than 130 other mid-career works to earn her the St. Francis College $50,000 Literary Prize, one of the richest book prizes in the nation. Casey's win was announced during the opening gala for the 10th Annual Brooklyn Book Festival. She is the fourth winner of the prize.

"Casey's writing struck us for the quality of its sentences, by turns lyrical and hardnosed, the depth of its research, and its subtly intricate structure," said author Daniel Torday (The Last Flight of Poxl West), one of the three jurors for the 2015 prize.

The Literary Prize mission is to support mid-career writers who don't often receive the support they need to write. Winners of the prize submit a third to fifth work of fiction published within a two-year window. The next prize will be awarded for a work published between June 2015 and May 2017.

The other authors on the shortlist were Paul Beatty, The Sellout, Stuart Dybek, Paper Lantern, David Gilbert, & Sons, Marlon James, A Brief History of Seven Killings, and René Steinke, Friendswood. The authors spoke at a panel at the book festival.

Jones and Beatty both later returned to St. Francis for separate events as part of the Walt Whitman Writers Series. Isaac Fitzgerald from BuzzFeed Books hosted both talks. •

Among those in attendance were, Bro. Owen Sadlier, OSF, Sr. Colleen Colbert, OP, Michael Macchiarola, Joseph Macchiarola, Mary Macchiarola, Henry Macchiarola, Susan Macchiarola and The Rev. Joseph Michael McShane, SJ (President, Fordham University).

Macchiarola Archive Unveiled

On what would have been his 75th birthday, St. Francis College unveiled the President Frank J. Macchiarola Digital Archive. "FJM's daily life, and certainly his writings, give shape to Francis' proscription, 'Practice the gospel always, use words if necessary'," said Dr. Macchiarola's son, Michael Macchiarola, as he laid out the lessons that can be learned by examining his father's writing.

It took about three weeks for Data Conversion Laboratory (DCL) to scan and organize thousands of documents; 38 years' worth of photos, law review articles, essays, news clips, and books written by and about Dr. Macchiarola.

The archive is a visual and written history of Dr. Macchiarola's life and accomplishments, from when he graduated from St. Francis in 1962 to his return as President in 1996. It includes his time as New York City Schools Chancellor, Dean of Cardozo Law School, Chair of Mayor Michael Bloomberg's New York City Charter Revision Program, member of Gov. George Pataki's New York State Commission on Education Reform and much more.

In attendance at the unveiling were a number of Dr. Macchiarola's family including his wife Mary, sons Michael and Joseph, brother Henry, and sister-in-law Susan. Michael Macchiarola is a member of the St. Francis College Board of Trustees. Access the Digital Archive at macchiarola.sfc.edu/omeka. •

Entrepreneurship Center Welcomes New Director–Another Big Year Planned

The Center for Entrepreneurship welcomes Eda Sanchez-Persampieri as the new director in charge of programming and operations. Eda is an entrepreneur herself, with more than 20 years of experience in the apparel industry. Among her accomplishments, she launched three lifestyle brands. She frequently mentors small business owners and aspiring entrepreneurs to build and scale their concepts into profitable and sustainable businesses.

Last year, the Center hosted several events including the Power of Entrepreneurship, featuring Steve Mariotti (Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship), St. Francis alumnus Walt Pearson '83 (Brown Capital Management), Kiante Young (Brightline Interactive), Joseph Seldner (Journalist/Producer), and Rodney Walker (Forever Life Productions).

In the fall, the Center welcomed Ita Ekpoudom (CEO, Tigress Ventures), Dorraine Burrell (Founder and CEO, The GlamCase), and Mia Hall (Community Manager, Barclays Center) for the 2nd Annual Entrepreneurial Women's Leadership Forum.

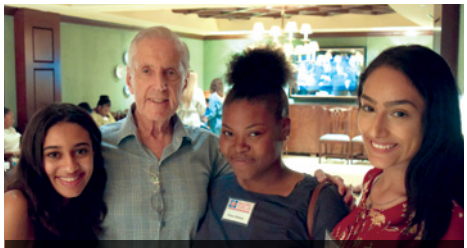
The Robert J. McGuire Scholarship—Building an Amazin' Team

He's built some great, winning teams as chairman and CEO of the New York Mets and now Fred Wilpon and his wife Judy are building a winning team of 60 students at St. Francis College with the creation of The Robert J. McGuire Scholarship.

With a focus on diversity and offering opportunity to students who otherwise could not attend a private college, the McGuire scholarship seeks to unlock the potential in underserved communities.

"Judy and I consider ourselves truly blessed. What better way to give back to a community that gave so much to us, to partner with a college that makes serving an urban, immigrant community its primary mission, and to share scholarships that make possible the gift of education—it changes their lives and ours," said Mr. Wilpon.



Fred Wilpon with Merna Abdelhalem '20, Ebony Johnson '19, and Hala Ibrahim '20 at the semester kick-off at Citi Field.

The scholarship grew out of Wilpon's friendship with the late Dr. Frank J. Macchiarola '62 and gets its name from Robert J. McGuire, a former NYPD Commissioner who has a lifelong commitment to the community with special attention to the Police Athletic League (PAL). McGuire was also a long-time friend of Dr. Macchiarola after they worked together under Mayor Ed Koch.

PAL is one of the organizations where scholars are recruited, along with the Jackie Robinson Foundation and high schools including Cristo Rey Brooklyn, Cristo Rey New York, Harry S. Truman High School, and the Harlem Village Academies.

"I am privileged to be part of this wonderful effort. There is no more powerful combination than a great educational institution, a wonderful group of donors led by Fred and Judy Wilpon, and an outstanding group of young scholars for whom the future is bright," added Mr. McGuire.

The scholarship was made possible through a $1.2 million challenge grant from the Wilpons that will spur another $1.2 million in donations. The collective generosity will fund 60 four-year scholarships that will cover nearly-full tuition for 60 students. Almost 30 students are now in their sophomore year while 15 just began their first year at St. Francis College. Fifteen more students will be admitted next year.

The first class of McGuire students will graduate in spring 2019.

The McGuire scholarship is more than just tuition. The scholars have an exclusive Academic Advisor, a McGuire Mentor, to help them navigate life at college. In addition, recipients and their families are invited to special events throughout the year; including an annual start-of-the-year event as guests of the Wilpons for a Mets game at Citi Field.

Ed Travaglianti '70, Robert McGuire, Thomas Flood, Fred Wilpon, and Mary Ann Mattone at the Charter Award Dinner.

The Wilpons, McGuires, and St. Francis College hope to extend the Robert J. McGuire Scholarship well beyond the first three groups of students. If you'd like to help make that possible please call Thomas Flood, VP for Development at 718.489.5443 or email development@sfc.edu.

McGuire Scholar Making Good

By Brian Fonseca '16

She's just a sophomore but St. Francis College student Miasia Kinloch is already looking to capitalize on the opportunity she's been given: scholarships that cover her tuition.

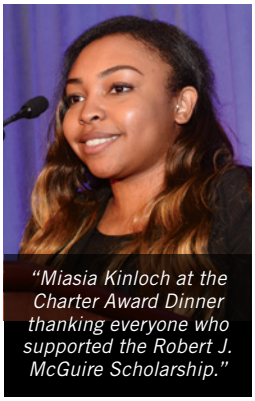
Like many college students, Kinloch originally didn't know what to expect as a freshman, but found a rhythm with relative ease, making a smooth transition.

"My first year was actually pretty good, it was really successful," she said. "My first semester I had a 3.7, then my second I had a 3.6—I never had that high an average in my life. I was offered the opportunity to volunteer at the President's Club dinner, and then my second semester I spoke at the Charter Award Dinner," she added excitedly.

Kinloch, a member of the psychology club, says she's already looking at graduate school programs in anticipation of reaching a major goal: to become an industrial organizational psychologist.

"I've put a lot of research into it—it's actually one of the top five upcoming jobs," she said. "New York people hire them a lot and I want to work in New York for now to stay with my family. Right before I started going into middle school, my parents were drilling me; 'What do you want to be when you grow up?'"

"I wanted to be a basketball player but I'm only five-foot-two, so that's not happening. Everybody around me were nurses and doctors so I thought 'I'm going to be a nurse.'" Kinloch realized, however, that she didn't like hospitals and began searching elsewhere.



"Miasia Kinloch at the Charter Award Dinner thanking everyone who supported the Robert J. McGuire Scholarship."

"When people nag you every day about what you're going to do in the future, you'd rather just get it together than say 'I don't know,'" she added with a laugh.

Kinloch received a Robert J. McGuire Scholarship through the Police Athletic League and St. Francis College offered a second one. The combination covers full tuition, making the choice to attend easy to make.

"When I got the one from PAL, I was a little shaky because [St. Francis] didn't have Industrial organizational psychology as a major, so it was either that or go to a school down south," Kinloch said. "But when I saw that St. Francis was actually trying to work with me and give me a full scholarship, I felt like I should do my undergraduate degree here and go to another school for graduate school. With this scholarship, I could really just focus on my studies. It's like a weight lifted off my shoulders." •

Graduation on the Water

Spring Commencement—A Return to Brooklyn Bridge Park

The wind and a smattering of clouds made for perfect weather at the Spring 2016 Commencement Ceremony May 10 at Brooklyn Bridge Park, the second year St. Francis College held the event on the Brooklyn waterfront.

Nearly 350 graduates were cheered on by thousands of family and friends as alumnus Peter T. King '65, congressman from Long Island, delivered the keynote address.

The day was bookended by two valedictory speeches. Undergraduate Valedictorian Dragana Dzigurski '16, a Communication Arts major with a concentration in English and a minor in Spanish, told her classmates, "I have never seen … a community that embraced foreigners, like myself, and facilitated friendship among strangers of all walks of life. For me, this was the quality that made St. Francis truly stand out from all the rest."

Dzigurski is from Novi Becej, Serbia, and followed her brother Marko '14 to St. Francis. He is now pursuing his master's degree in accounting at the College. Dzigurski is a member of the Duns Scotus Honor Society, sang in the College's Choir and played on the St. Francis Tennis Team. The Northeast Conference named her the 2015–16 Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Graduate Valedictorian, Theresa Franchi '16, who earned her combined master's and graduate degree in accounting, told her classmates, "As an Endowed Scholarship recipient, I have learned so much about the spirit of giving. It's not about what we can do for ourselves. It's about what we can do for others and our community." Franchi was president of the Accounting Society and a member of the Accounting Honor Society. She completed two internships; with JPMorgan Chase and Deloitte where she is now working full-time as a tax consultant.

The College also honored the President of the Brooklyn Historical Society, Deborah Schwartz, for her leadership over the past 10 years overseeing a major expansion in programming at the Historical Society.

The celebration began the night before at St. Joseph's Co-Cathedral in Brooklyn when graduates and their families filled the pews for a Baccalaureate Mass. The Most Reverend Nicholas DiMarzio, Bishop of Brooklyn, was the main celebrant.

Winter Commencement—January 14

Winter Valedictorian Chantell Chimbo '16 was a management major with a minor in sports management and had a 3.9 GPA. She put her three internships at Greenhouse Eco-Cleaning, the MTA, and Madison Square Garden to good use, securing a job at IMG as a Human Resources Assistant.

Philosophy Professor Gerald Galgan delivered the Commencement Address at Winter Commencement, celebrating his 50 years in education and his final one at St. Francis College where he started in 1966. A full-day symposium with panel discussions and plenary speakers was held April 16 to honor Dr. Galgan.

Continuing her support for the community and her relationship with St. Francis College, former New York State Assemblywoman Joan Millman became the College's newest Scholar-in-Residence and hosted three panel discussions last spring.

For Women's History Month, Millman welcomed New York State Assemblywoman Jo Anne Simon and New York State Senator Roxanne Persaud, a former Registrar at St. Francis. They discussed the unique challenges that women in government face. Rep. Nydia Velázquez, United States Congresswoman for New York 7th District, spoke at the second event on how being the first Puerto Rican woman elected to the U.S. House of Representatives affects the way she serves her constituents, while Dr. Joan Pastore of the AMICO Senior Center and Judy Willig of Heights and Hills spoke about "Aging in an Urban Environment." •

The Thomas J. Volpe Lecture Series went into overdrive last year, sponsoring three events from three very different leaders.

Becky Hammon, the first female NBA Assistant Coach and former WNBA All-Star, talked about the character traits one needs to succeed. Brooklyn Brewery co-founder Steve Hindy described his career change from war reporter to beer entrepreneur. Glenn Adamson, the former director of the Museum of Arts and Design, talked about the importance of recognizing the way things are made, not just the final product.

The lecture series is funded through a generous gift from Thomas J. Volpe, Chairman Emeritus of the St. Francis College Board of Trustees and a former Senior Vice President of Financial Operations for The Interpublic Group of Companies, Inc. •

Yom HaShoah–Holocaust Remembrance Day

Murry Sidlin with Frederick Terna.

Painter and Holocaust survivor Frederick Terna joined Maestro Murry Sidlin, founder of The Defiant Requiem Foundation for the College's annual Yom HaShoah, Holocaust Remembrance Day Commemoration.

Sidlin showed a 20-minute trailer from his Emmy-nominated documentary film, Defiant Requiem, about Jewish prisoners at the Terezín concentration camp who performed the Verdi Requiem as an act of survival and defiance against their Nazi captors. Mr. Terna saw one of the performances as a prisoner at Terezín and says that decades later the Holocaust still informs all of his paintings. "The Shoah is like a crazy bass playing in my head all the time. And I learned to play the fiddle above it so there should be some harmony to my life." •

Charter Award Dinner–April 27

The biggest fundraising event of the year for St. Francis College, the 55th Annual Charter Award Dinner held at The Lighthouse at Chelsea Piers, delivered on its promise, raising more than $1.5 million for scholarships.

The event honored Domenick A. Cama, Senior Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of Investors Bank whose children, Victoria '12 and Michael '10, graduated from St. Francis and Joseph K. Collins, President and Chief Executive Officer of Collins Building Services, Inc.

In addition to money that was raised for the Robert J. McGuire Scholarship, Investors Bank Community Service Scholarship announced a $100,000 endowed scholarship fund to support four students annually who excel in the classroom and have made serving the community a priority. •

Center for Communication & St. Francis College present Mr. Robot and Late Night Writers

A new partnership with the Center for Communication (centerforcommunication.org) is giving St. Francis College students access to some top TV talent.

In the fall, the Center brought to the college Sam Esmail, creator of, and Rami Malek, star of Mr. Robot, USA Network's award-winning show. In the spring, Zhubin Parang (The Daily Show with Trevor Noah), Franchesca Ramsey (The Nightly Show with Larry Wilmore), and Joe Toplyn (The Late Show with David Letterman) spoke about the craft of comedy and news satire.

Communication Arts majors Tia Quirk '16 and Vantesha Brewer '17 interviewed Rami Malek.

The Center for Communication hosts events year-round across New York City, exposing students to professionals in a wide variety of communication fields, including advertising and marketing agencies, internet news sites, television show producers and media companies. ●

Michael Rochford '74
Spreading the Love of Reading, One Stop at a Time

By Chandra Persaud '11

Michael Rochford '74, Executive Director of St. Nicks Alliance, firmly believes that reading nurtures the mind and paves the path for future success. This exact sentiment is the driving force behind the non-profit organization's latest literacy initiative—the BK Story Voyager (bkstoryvoyager.org), a bookmobile that travels weekly to after-school sites throughout north Brooklyn, bringing the love of books to children and families.

Rochford, who has worked with St. Nicks for the last 20 years, hopes the BK Story Voyager helps children get ready to learn and eager to read, igniting a passion that turns them into lifelong readers.

"Reading not only helps one stay informed, but provides the groundwork needed to lead with innovation," says Rochford who as a child gravitated towards biographies and books about cities during his regular visits to his local library. "It is so important to be inquisitive."

Michael Rochford with Alison Dell in front of the BK Story Voyager.

St. Nicks serves over 2,000 children in after-school and community centers each year. "We noticed that many of our children, despite exposure to enriching after-school programming, were not reading at grade level or thriving in school," explains Rochford.

The organization set out to find a creative, but effective solution to specifically engage children in reading. The book distribution vehicle was born from conversations among board members and focus groups with neighborhood parents and children.

"One of the ultimate goals of this initiative is to lift the rate of student performance and school success," says Rochford and the bookmobile is well equipped to do exactly that. On the road since fall 2015, the BK Story Voyager boasts a library suitable for children of all ages along with a full-time librarian. In addition, it offers multimedia access, arts and crafts events, literacy-based contests, and even opportunities to meet guest authors. The BK Story Voyager also ensures that children and families have access to books even when local libraries are closed and can enjoy books they may be unable to afford at retail prices.

Most importantly, the bookmobile is an emblem of St. Nicks continued promise to empower residents of the Williamsburg-Greenpoint community "The BK Story Voyager is part of a larger innovative effort intended to integrate affordable housing, education and employment to address poverty," explains Rochford.

The BK Story Voyager would not be around today without the help of the Williamsburg-Greenpoint community. Money for the bus came from Councilman Steve Levin's Participatory Budgeting process which gives community members the ability to decide how the city's money will be spent.

Among those playing an instrumental role in the launch of the BK Story Voyager is SFC's very own Alison Dell, Assistant Professor of Biology. As a volunteer, she stood alongside parents, educators, and local leaders who came out in strong support for the Bk Story Voyager's goals of increasing literacy and access to books.

"I was drawn to the idea of a children's literacy outreach program from the beginning. Books kind of saved my life as a kid. My nephew is just beginning to hit his stride as a young reader, so the topic of literacy and supporting our youth's academic success is very important to me," says Dell. She currently continues to serve on the BK Story Voyager Advisory Committee at St. Nicks.

Professor Dell says taking this idea and turning it into reality through sheer determination and collaboration was an empowering experience. "After all the steps involved in the process—going from an idea, to a vote, to deciding how the will be outfitted—it is inspiring to see the BK Story Voyager on the road and engaging Brooklyn's kids and families with books," says Dell.

Rochford credits St. Francis College for laying the necessary foundation that led him to devote decades to revitalizing urban areas. "As a Brooklyn native, I was drawn to St. Francis because it offered a solid undergraduate education, small school environment, and is conveniently located in a major metropolitan area. I majored in sociology, which was a good introduction for my focus on urban development," says Rochford. Out of a love for cities and a thirst for what makes them thrive, Rochford pursued a MS in Urban Planning and a MBA in Finance after graduating from SFC.

As for his time at SFC, Rochford fondly remembers classes in sociology with Dr. Edna O'Hern and philosophy with Dr. O'Brian. "Both professors were passionate about their subjects and encouraged inquiry. They did an excellent job providing a solid foundation for advanced study," recalls Rochford. In addition, he can vividly recount forming new friendships at SFC and exploring downtown Brooklyn. "I also have great memories of the quirky group Treaty Stone," adds Rochford.

Dell was not surprised to learn that Rochford is an alumnus of SFC. "The College's culture includes the expectation that you are working not only for your own gain, but to make the world a better place. An atmosphere that requires each person to work towards social change is one of my favorite things about the College." Without a doubt, Rochford's work is the epitome of such Franciscan values. •

Our Deepest Condolences

During the reporting of this story in August, Michael's 24-year-old son, Michael Cawley Rochford, unexpectedly passed away while on summer break from George Washington University Law School. Our thoughts and prayers are with Michael and the Rochford family.

The New Nursing: Ronica Mukerjee

Over the last two years, the nursing program at St. Francis College has grown rapidly. This year, training for the new wave of nurses kicks into overdrive, thanks in large part to Professor Ronica Mukerjee.

Mukerjee, now in her third year at SFC, says her students will spend a lot more time with robot simulators in the new nursing lab.

"Basically they get to work with a specialized mannequin or SIM [a patient simulator] person that is pre-programmed to have an abnormal heart beat, abdominal sounds, or varying blood pressures so a student can detect physiological disorders for example," Mukerjee said. "We can use many different types of procedures on them so that the first time a student is practicing a new skill, it's not on a patient necessarily. They will still learn many things in a live, clinical setting for the first time but there's quite a bit we can do in our lab, including childbirth."

Ronica Mukerjee.

Mukerjee, a Columbia University grad, knows that shifting from the lab to working with real patients is not always a smooth transition. She says she works hard to prepare her students for clinical shifts at Bellevue Hospital, which has partnered with the program.

"I think a lot of students are new to the world of nursing, and the SIMs provide an avenue for experiential learning not otherwise available," she said. "I remember when I went to college—SIM preparation was very new and so they didn't really do anything. But now you'll see students be as nervous with SIM people as you would expect them to be with patients. It's good for people to deal with their nervousness in a controlled environment."

Technology is just a small part of what Mukerjee teaches. Perhaps the most important thing she can pass on to her students is an awareness of and compassion for the wide array of patients they will take care of. That includes understanding cultural differences as well as individual quirks.

While teaching at St. Francis, Mukerjee is also completing a Doctor of Nursing program at Yale. A big focus on her studies is cultural safety, a way to make health care work better for marginalized communities that have historically experienced discrimination.

"The clinical work that I do is predominately with HIV+ people in communities of color as well as transgender women but also I've focused on working with the whole LGBT population," she said. "I became interested in it because I spent a lot of time working in HIV-affected communities before I went into nursing school and I recognized that economic disparities as well as the resources for treatment and prevention of health disparities were sorely lacking."

No matter who the patient is, Mukerjee expects her students to deliver care with confidence and top-notch preparation before working in a clinical setting. But she knows, she can't prepare them for everything.

"I don't think anybody expects them to be fully 100 percent understanding of the material without guidance," she said. "A lot of what happens in the classroom is the experiences are more cohesive so it really paints the picture for students about patients. I don't think our jobs as teachers are to answer every question; it is to pose them and see what solution students can come up with or show new avenues to work through problems." •

Bro. Geoffrey Clement, OSF (History) presented his research "Statim Prosequi: an index as a product, instrument and medium of the medieval Franciscan inquisition in Tuscany" at the Fordham Center for Medieval Studies Annual International Conference, Manuscript as Medium. The paper shows how internal devices were embedded in an early 14th-century Franciscan Tuscan inquisitor's manual that enabled an inquisitor, or a functionary thereof, to consult major bodies of legal documentation more quickly and effectively.

Wendy Galgan (Chair, English) and the Women's Study Center/Women's Minor kicked off the Year of Respect at the College, with a series of talks, movies, and special events supported by signs around campus, that promote respect for people, respect for communities, and respect for the environment.

Wendy Galgan with photographer and artist Alyscia Cunningham who spoke about Embracing Our Natural Beauty.

"The Respect Initiative is dedicated to promoting respect for everyone, regardless of sex, gender, race, socioeconomic class, political beliefs, physical [dis]ability, nationality, or any of the other myriad ways people tend to be categorized. Every person deserves respect, no matter who that person is," says Professor Galgan.

Women's Basketball Best in Class

The 2015–2016 St. Francis Women's basketball team recorded the highest grade point average in the nation for Division I programs with a 3.712 cumulative team GPA.

"It's great to be number one in the country in anything because that's something that the overwhelming majority of college student-athletes never get the chance to be," said Terriers' Head Coach John Thurston. "I'm extremely happy for the players. They did this. It took a lot of hard work and effort on their part."

The Terriers have made the Academic Top 25 for five consecutive years, placing in the top four in each of the last four seasons under Thurston, including a pair of second place finishes in 2012–13 and in 2014–15.

"I also want to congratulate our alumni, especially our recent alumni who established the culture and the environment that's needed for this type of recognition to take place," added Coach Thurston, who last year coached the women to the College's first ever NCAA March Madness appearance when they won the 2015 NEC Tournament. •

Vincent Bezecourt '16 Inks Contract With New York Red Bulls II

Terriers' All-American soccer player Vincent Bezecourt '16 got his wings, signing a professional contract with the New York Red Bulls II of the United Soccer League.

"He came to St. Francis College with the attitude of making himself a better player every day on and off the field," said Terriers' Head Coach Tom Giovatto. "Vince's commitment and positive energy carried through to every member of our team and helped put St. Francis soccer back in the national rankings last season. It shows our current players and recruits that if they put in the work they can play professionally after school."

The highly decorated Bezecourt, who led the Terriers to the 2014 Northeast Conference Championship and a #22 national ranking, played in five preseason games with the Red Bulls prior to the 2016 season. On Feb. 4, the midfielder scored a goal in a 5–0 victory over the Montreal Impact. He scored his first two goals for Red Bulls II in August against the Harrisburg City Islanders.

Bezecourt, who comes from Aire sur l'Adour in the southwest of France, led the Terriers last season tallying seven goals. In December, the National Soccer Coaches Association of America named him Third Team All-American. Bezecourt was also named to the All-Northeast Regional First-Team in 2015. •

Leah Fechko '16 Signs Professional Contract In Ireland

Irish eyes will be smiling when women's basketball graduate Leah Fechko '16 takes the court as a professional for the Killester Basketball Club in Dublin, Ireland.

"It is very gratifying to see one of our players fulfilling their dream and for Leah it was to be able to play overseas," said Terriers' Head Coach John Thurston. "She is a rare talent who is ideally suited for International rules. We look forward to following her throughout her career."

Fechko is the fourth player from the Terriers' 2014–15 NEC Championship team to sign as a professional. Her former teammates Katie Fox '15 and Sarah Benedetti '15 both also play professionally in Ireland and Eilidh Simpson '15 plays professionally in Barcelona.

The Twinsburg, Ohio, native put together a significant list of accomplishments in 2016. Fechko was named the NEC Defensive Player of the Year and was selected to the All-NEC First Team. She was also named the St. Francis Brooklyn Female Athlete of the Year.

Fechko became the 16th woman to score 1,000 career-points and is the only player in the school's program history (men's or women's) to score 1,200 points, grab 850 rebounds, dish out 250 assists, and register 200 steals in a career.

"I'm thankful to have the opportunity to continue to play the game I love in another country," Fechko stated. "I am excited to see where basketball takes me and to travel the world. I couldn't thank my support system of family, friends, teammates and coaches enough for believing in me to make my dreams a reality." •

Angela Manekas '01 Named a 2016 Big Apple Award Winner

Excellence in the classroom continues for another former women's basketball player. Angela Manekas '01, a fourth-grade teacher at PS 232 (The Walter Ward School) in Lindenwood, was one of 17 teachers to win a 2016 Big Apple Award.

Manekas, who also worked for the St. Francis Athletic Department, was selected from more than 4,600 nominees.

Both of Manekas' parents were physical education teachers; her father taught at a school for the deaf. That inspired her to have her students say the Pledge of Allegiance in sign language every morning.

Manekas has taught at PS 232 for 11 years. Her principal says she's an expert guided reading teacher. Manekas' students also do well in math. In the 2014–15 school year, 91 percent of her students demonstrated proficiency on the New York State math exam, and 69 percent performed at an advanced level. •

Tennis Teams Raise Awareness For Kidney Disease

The St. Francis Terriers' tennis teams are fighting a battle far bigger than their matches on court. The two squads are raising awareness about kidney disease, inspired by SFC Men's Tennis Head Coach Chad Davis '02.

Davis was diagnosed with end-stage renal disease, also known as chronic kidney disease, in May 2015 just after the completion of the men's 2014–15 campaign.

"We want people to know that it is important that they take care of themselves and go to the doctor on a regular basis," Coach Davis said.

"We try our best to follow the Franciscan way and help those in need by identifying a cause each year to support and build awareness," said Terriers' Head Women's Coach Alicia Browne '05. "Each year, we participate in the breast cancer walk and this year, because it hit home for us with Chad being diagnosed with kidney failure, we did a project for kidney disease awareness."

"Having end-stage renal disease is certainly a life changer. I kind of relate it to sports where at any given time the game plan switches up on and you have to make in-game adjustments," said Davis who is still coaching at St. Francis between dialysis appointments but had to stop working at his public school job.

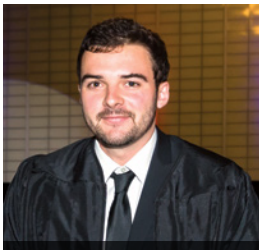
"It's also something that you can't really tackle alone so I'm glad I have the support system of my mom, Marilyn Davis, my girlfriend, Tina, and my sister, Jackie, as well as a host of other family members and close friends. Without those three women I think it would have been an even tougher road; they have put up with a lot," he continued. "What I try and do is stay positive and take it one day at a time. •

Coach Chad Davis '02 hopes to inspire the team with his off-court battle.

A Heroic Return

A year ago, St. Francis tennis stand-out Francesc Terns-Campius '15 was supposed to be celebrating graduation with his fellow seniors in the class of 2015.

But Terns never walked across the stage to get his diploma. Instead, on the day of the year-end Athletics Banquet, Terns was diagnosed with cancer and began making plans for returning to his home in Barcelona. It was the start of a months-long struggle against Hodgkin's lymphoma.



Francesc Terns-Campius '15 receiving his diploma at the 2016 Athletic Awards Banquet.

"I thought it could not happen to me because I was healthy, I was playing sports," said Terns. "I'm fit. I never smoked in my life. I barely drink, like why?"

After coming to grips with the diagnosis, Terns began chemotherapy and radiation, writing about his fight on his Spanish language blog: whatsuppaquito.wordpress.com.

Eight months later, doctors told Terns that he was cancer free.

"Right now I'm perfect; I'm feeling better than ever," he said with a grin from ear-to-ear.

Building on the support of friends and family that helped him through his treatments, Terns is now helping others battling cancer.

"When I was on the fourth or fifth chemo … I saw on TV a show with kids that were going through cancer and I said, for me it's hard. I can't imagine for a kid," added Terns.

He was inspired to start the Pinky Smiles Foundation to provide toys and once-in-a-lifetime experiences for children with cancer.

"When I left last year, if you'd tell me that I was going to be here like I am right now, I would say there is no way," he said. "I didn't know what I was going to go through, but I knew the worst. You know it exists but if you don't have cancer ever in your life then it's like a separate world; you don't understand what it is. In one year, I learned more than all my life."

A year after the initial diagnosis, Terns returned to Brooklyn for the 2016 Athletics Banquet. He was honored at the ceremony, and finally got to walk across the stage to receive his diploma. •

Entire SFC Athletic Department to Volunteer at the New York City Marathon for Fourth Straight Year

When runners from the 2016 NYC Marathon run through Williamsburg this November, for the fourth year in a row, St. Francis College student-athletes, coaches, and staff will support them by handing out water and sports drinks.

The volunteers get to the 11-mile mark of the race early in the morning, set-up, then clean up the trash after the more than 50,000 runners have passed.

SFC student athletes braved wet and windy weather to help out at the 2015 marathon.

"We love being able to help out the city and the thousands of runners that compete in this event," said Terriers' Director of Athletics Irma Garcia '80. "It's in our nature as Franciscans to give back to our community and I'm proud of our group for giving their time."

More volunteers are always welcome. Contact Director of Marketing Maggie Martini at 718.455.5411 or mmartini@sfc.edu. •

Jack '58 and Julie McCarthy—Dismas Home of New Hampshire

After working for many years with various prison programs and seeing too many inmates wind up back behind bars, Jack '58 and Julie McCarthy decided to try something new.

"We came up with the concept of Dismas Home because it has been successful in 20 states. It was begun by a Catholic priest and some students at Vanderbilt University. There is no central organization; each one is responsible for running and funding itself and so each is somewhat different," writes McCarthy.

They approached the president of St. Anselm College in Manchester, NH, Dr. Stephen DiSalvo. They bonded over baseball, borough parishes, and Catholic Colleges. After several discussions, they decided to devote the Dismas house to helping the women in a nearby state prison.

Jack and Julie McCarthy with their Great Dane therapy dogs, Erin and Tara.

"Our first home is small. It was provided by Catholic Charities at no rent but required a lot of renovation work. We will accommodate up to seven women at a time. We estimate the average stay to be five to seven months before they are ready to strike out on their own. Most of the women will most likely have addiction issues and many will be single mothers." Among the services Dismas Home will provide:

- A safe, warm, loving environment
- Meals prepared by volunteers from the United Council of Churches
- Volunteers who join them at meals to create a family atmosphere
- Tutoring and computer literacy by students from St. Anselm
- Jobs with opportunities to grow through an alliance with an employment agency
- Medical care provided by Catholic Medical Center
- Food and culinary training provided by Catholic Charities
- Money management and budget training from St. Mary's Bank, and
- Drug and Alcohol counseling by Hope for New Hampshire.

Reflecting on his own life, McCarthy says transferring to St. Francis College from Syracuse University was the best move he ever made.

"The Franciscan Brothers I experienced, one of whom taught my father, were disciplined, but loving. They were demanding in the classroom and wanted you to be successful, even Bro. Roger Nagle who knocked me on my butt more than once on the basketball court. From them, I learned most of the principles I have carried though a successful business career and an adventurous life, and I learned to lean on my faith to get me though the rough times. Those men, those wonderful teachers left an indelible mark on my heart and my future."

Known as JB while at St. Francis, he said that many of his lifelong friends started out as classmates and fraternity brothers.

Now, with the first house renovated and ready for guests, Jack and Julie are planning to establish Dismas Homes near several New Hampshire colleges or universities.

"I never thought that when I'm reaching 80 years old, I would be the CEO of a non-profit. Actually, I'm not. God is. He has guided us every step of the way."

Walter Timpone '72—SFC Alumnus Joins State's Highest Court

After 30 years serving as a lawyer in public and private practice, Walter Timpone '72 was sworn in as New Jersey State Supreme Court Associate Justice this summer, the highest court in the state.

"It is humbling to have been plucked out of the great pool of lawyers to become one of seven justices," said Timpone. "I am seeing many of the critical issues of the day coming across my desk. The work is fascinating and demanding."

Timpone most recently was a partner at McElroy, Deutsch, Mulvaney & Carpenter, LLP. Before that, he held a variety of positions including at the U.S. Attorney's office in Newark, serving as a federal election monitor, and investigating the NJ Department of Motor Vehicles Inspection Program.

"My life's experiences, including growing-up very blue collar in Brooklyn, infuse my thinking and decisions. I was a junior high school teacher in Park Slope, a special education teacher in Manhattan, a federal prosecutor in New Jersey as well as a criminal defense attorney in private practice. The return to the public sector is a compelling capstone to my many years of practice."

Justice Timpone, who attended St. Francis during the Vietnam War, says it was in college that he learned about the need for social justice and the importance of paying it forward.

"My generation watched many of our peers lose their lives in that war. While it was raging, the College remained a safe haven for us, providing thoughtful discussion and a framework in which to respond to the challenges of the times. Those teachings and guiding principles stayed with me over the years."

He says he spends a lot of time mentoring young lawyers as a way of giving back, but it was a case as federal prosecutor that produced one of his proudest moments.

"Two young police trainees came to me after having been told by a mayor and a councilman that they would not be promoted to full status as police officers because they had failed to come out in support of the party during elections. I charged and convicted the politicians."

The decision was eventually reversed but the trainees had already become full status and rose to important positions in public service. Justice Timpone is still in contact with them. •

Katja Bavendam '08—My Giant Life

By Kareem Cooper '14

The transition from college to the real world is never predictable. Katja Bavendam '08 had spent years in the public eye as a star basketball player but she never thought the spotlight would extend to a role on a primetime TV show.

Katja, from Hambergen, Germany, was on the 2004–2008 St. Francis women's basketball team. The 6'8" center was a key member of the team that had one of the Terriers biggest wins up until that time—a 2007 upset over the #1 ranked Long Island University Blackbirds in the NEC tournament. Katja's collegiate success led to an international professional basketball career.

She was living out her dream playing basketball throughout Europe when she seriously injured her knee. Doctors advised her to retire—her basketball career was over.

Katja returned to New York to figure out what to do. While contemplating grad school, she was contacted by a friend connected to the TLC show My Giant Life. The series focuses on the unique aspects of life as a very tall woman. Katja's friend urged her to give it a shot.

To Katja's surprise, the TLC producers offered her a spot on the show. Katja and her wife, Julie McGuire, were unsure about opening their lives to the public but, "We couldn't really answer the question 'why not?' We decided to go with it and have a really fun experience with it," Katja said.

Though the idea of being on a reality show might seem scary to some people, Katja says it's not as bad as it seems: "It's not as weird as I thought it would be … of course, you're always going to be super critical of yourself, so that's a little weird. You're always going to be like 'I sound funny' or 'Why did I say that?'"

Being surrounded by cameras all day hasn't been much of an issue; as a 6'8" woman she's used to stares. Though the hours are long and filming can be tiresome, she says she finds joy in moments where she gets filmed with her loved ones, and when candid moments are captured for the world to see. The only frustrating aspect is the repetitive nature of filming; scenes are shot countless times for various reasons and it can become monotonous.

Katja could never have predicted that she'd be where she is. From collegiate and professional athlete to reality series star. But for now, she's found a home for her larger-than-life story.

Giving Tuesday—We Asked, You Gave

After you've spent on gifts on Black Friday and Cyber Monday, we hope you have a little left over for Giving Tuesday. Last November, St. Francis took part, for the first time, in this growing movement that asks people to support non-profit organizations during the holiday season.

More than 225 of you responded with over $25,000 in donations to St. Francis College.

We're doing it again this year on November 29, so please watch your email inbox and social media for news on how you can participate. •

James F. McElroy '77

For more than 10 years (1963–1974), James F. McElroy '77 was skipper of some of the most successful baseball teams in St. Francis College history. As coach of the Freshman team and later Varsity, he accumulated a record of 155–101, winning two Knickerbocker Conference baseball titles and two Middle Eastern College Athletic Association baseball championships. He helped develop three minor league players and loved St. Francis so much that when he finished coaching, he became a student and earned a degree here. •

Enrique Rios

Enrique Rios transferred to St. Francis College in 2015 with hopes of completing his degree in sociology with a concentration in social work. Sadly, his dreams were cut short in June. He was one of the 49 people killed inside the Pulse nightclub in Orlando, FL. •

Annual Donor Report

A Message from Denis J. Salamone '75, Development Committee Chairman and Thomas F. Flood, Vice President for Development

On the heels of the Olympics, it is timely and appropriate we write to celebrate and acknowledge our true champions of generosity. Every two years, the world comes together, encouraging best performances, striving for excellence, building on pride, and supporting people who are determined to realize their life goals and live their Big Dreams. Well, that happens every day at SFC!

Denis J. Salamone '75

Thomas F. Flood

The Olympians have fans who cheer them on, giving them more energy, support and perhaps that extra push they need to get to the finish line and achieve high marks. You occasionally see competitors falter, but they always seem to get back up and return more determined than ever to reach their goals. They know they have family and friends who will walk them through the challenges, help them through the adversity, and give them the strength to finish the race.

The benefactors in this report are the best fans in the world. They cheer and support our stars—our students—by sharing gifts of time, talent and treasure. Their investment in them is a clear message to not settle but strive, to not survive but thrive. YOU give the extra push our students need—and our students have great courage and confidence knowing they are never alone on their journey.

When Olympians are given an opportunity to compete, when they know they have the support of family and friends, they give their all and it leads to success—be it an Olympic or World record, or a personal best. Thanks to our benefactors, our students pursue their personal best in the classroom and in the world. They cross that finish line at graduation with such pride, gratification and an obligation to help those that follow.

We understand that the primary reason you give is for goals, for dreams, and for them. On behalf of President Dugan, the Board of Trustees, the administration and faculty, and most importantly the students and their families, we thank you for partnering with us, for partnering with them. You are true champions of these future stars—they have so much promise and there will be so much to celebrate thanks to you who give and get for Big Dreams.

Let's continue to strive for high marks and better results. Let's continue to grow our team, resources and fan base. Let's make 2017 a "golden" year for SFC and the students who will someday take the world stage—and take SFC to new heights.

With great gratitude,

— DENIS AND THOMAS

LASTING SUPPORT STARTS WITH A PLANNED GIVING

JOIN THE ST. CLARE SOCIETY Recognition you deserve for the Legacy you leave

You probably belong to more clubs than you realize. Chances are, your wallet contains at least one hotel, airline, auto or restaurant loyalty club card. Maybe you are a member of a country club, a bridge club, or other social group.

Clubs are everywhere. You may already be qualified to join one with significant rewards. One that celebrates the words of our patron—it is in giving that we receive. If you have made a planned gift of any type or size to St. Francis College, then you are automatically eligible for membership in our legacy society called the St. Clare Society.

We created the St. Clare Society to honor the generosity of people like you. We want to make sure you know how much we appreciate you and your gift. When you join our legacy society, we can also get to know you and make sure that we use your gift in the way you intend.

Thanks for giving and believing in the legacy of St. Francis College.

WHAT IS THE ST. CLARE SOCIETY?

The Society is named for St. Clare who befriended St. Francis of Assisi. She assisted the early Franciscans with her family's resources and later by founding a community of Franciscan women, now known as the Poor Clares, to collaborate with and encourage the Franciscan mission.

Benefits of membership in the St. Clare Society include:

- being remembered in a special way at the College's weekly celebrations of the Eucharist and at our Annual Alumni Mass;
- having your name listed in the Annual Report;
- receiving invitations to all local St. Francis College special events and to any special College events planned for their region;
- having the satisfaction of knowing that as St. Francis proclaimed in his most famous prayer that "It is in giving that we receive."

Our Mission. Your Impact.

Support The St. Francis College Endowed Scholarship Program Today

Since we first opened our doors in 1859, our mission has been to provide transformative education in the Franciscan tradition at an affordable cost. With the price of higher education rising, our Endowed Scholarship Program has become increasingly important in bridging the gap between Big Dreams and reality for our future Terriers.

Every contribution makes a difference, and there are a variety of ways to join us in sustaining this mission:

- Support an Existing Scholarship. Champion a cause that is close to your heart by supporting one or more of our scholarships. Each scholarship represents a legacy, memory or the spirit of a friend, family member, faculty/staff member, or alumni of SFC. Please contact our Development Office for a complete list of endowed scholarships or visit our website: www.sfc.edu/endowedscholarship
- Establish Your Own Scholarship with a gift commitment of $125,000 over a multi-year time horizon.
- Consider Planned Gifts such as bequests, charitable trusts, gifts of insurance, and IRAs to endow a new scholarship.

E-mail us at development@sfc.edu or call 718.489.5361
