applying to st. francis

I applied to St. Francis because I wanted to major in film, and this College has an excellent Communication Arts department, giving me most of what I need to start building my future. Since St. Francis is small, I thought I would have the opportunity to get to know my professors and receive extra help if I needed it. I also enjoy the fact that St. Francis has a diverse student body and is conveniently located in Brooklyn Heights, just a few subway stops from Manhattan.

I am majoring in Communication Arts - Film and Broadcasting - and hope to have a career in film editing. The courses I have taken so far have been very interesting and have further introduced me to this field, which will give me the tools I need to succeed. Faculty members in the Department have also given me many opportunities to expand on my skill set.

life @ SFC

I feel at home at St. Francis. The staff and students are both friendly and supportive. Since I started, I have met many great people and have learned a lot. I have been doing very well in my classes and have received a lot of support from my professors, who have been with me every step of the way. Outside of classes, I have been working with the St. Francis Troupers, putting on a play every semester. I have also been working as a technical assistant for the Communications department and am vice-president of the SFC Film Appreciation Society. I really feel that coming to this College was one of the best choices I’ve made. I could not have asked for more.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

A Franciscan Brother and currently serving as Chair of the English Department, Brother Edward Wesley finds his writing courses along with the American, British and international literature classes, seminars, or tutorials offer students and himself a path to self-knowledge. He believes research, writing, and the study of literature help to frame, categorize, and clarify details of our lives while enhancing our vision of the world and each other.

New York City is your extended campus! St. Francis College is located in the heart of historic Brooklyn Heights, one of the most desirable neighborhoods in New York City. Offering a wide variety of restaurants, you can eat everything under the sun. Experience the entire spectrum of arts, culture and fun festivals right at your fingertips. Come and Experience it all!

applying to SFC

Coming from a small, yet technologically advanced high school, with a close-knit community I knew I needed to continue my education in a school that would offer me the same resources. An open house was my first experience of what a Franciscan education had to offer. Small classes in state-of-the-art classrooms, where technology and traditional learning take place side by side, faculty and administrators that greet students by name, genuinely care about their academic endeavors and help them strive to meet their goals outside of the classroom. I knew that by becoming a student at SFC, I would have the opportunity to grow and develop in both mind and spirit.

My goal after I graduate SFC is to pursue a career in Law. Instead of choosing the traditional path and become a Political Science major, I chose a degree in English in an effort to further my reading and writing skills. My passion for reading stems from an immersion of literature at a young age, so it seemed like the logical step to turn my childhood passion into my life's journey. As an English major, I have the opportunity to explore, interpret and discover literature from around the world.

life @ SFC

By choosing to live at home while I went to college, I knew there would be less time for socializing and I would have to endure a longer commute each day. What I realized about SFC is that the commute is worth each and every minute it takes to get to school. I have learned that you do not need to dorm to have an amazing college experience, as students at SFC are continuously encouraged to join clubs, engage in activities and pursue their individual interests. SFC has become my second home in so many ways, in particular involvement with Campus Ministry, it has become a major part of my life allowing me to connect to other students on another level.

applying to St. Francis

Being a transfer student, I thought it would be hard to assimilate into another college atmosphere, was I wrong! Transferring to St. Francis has been one of the best choices I have made in my life. The location of the school and the short travel time from my house to the campus has made my life easier. SFC has also allowed me to build on the skills I have gained in the classroom and will put them to use in the business world.

My major is Business Management with a concentration in Marketing. I enjoy the classes within the curriculum and aspire to lead a company one day. SFC has had many management graduates who have become successful in their fields, including the CEO of Monster Worldwide. With my degree from SFC, I will be able to further my education and be successful in the workforce.

life @ SFC

St. Francis College, the Small College of Big Dreams, is located in what I believe to be the best area in Brooklyn—Brooklyn Heights. With the Brooklyn Promenade, Fulton Street Mall and Lower Manhattan all within walking distance, what else could a student ask for? Beyond the gorgeous views of the Manhattan skyline, one aspect that I believe makes St. Francis a step above any other college is the accessibility to my professors. At almost any time of the day, I can go to a professor’s office and have a discussion with them about my class or even the score of the previous weekend’s football game. The administration, faculty and students truly exemplifies the Franciscan Spirit that the school was built upon, and I hope I can take that spirit along with me through my journey.
