MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT BRENDAN J. DUGAN ’68

We always take pride in this issue of the Terrier because it’s when we get to publicly thank all the people who give of their time and money to keep St. Francis College on the path to success.

Without your generosity we would not be able to provide such a wide selection of programs and majors to our students, or continue to give them access to the latest tools and technology that keep them competitive in the modern marketplace.

Our Nursing Program (page 2) is a prime example of St. Francis putting your dollars to work. For the fall semester, we were flooded with applicants and have begun teaching several dozen of tomorrow’s nurses. The lab they use is beyond state of the art, with an amazing array of technology for teaching, reproducing real-life crises, and reviewing work.

Giving back is the hallmark of our alumni, and our current students are already embracing this philosophy. Brianna Rios ’17 came to SFC for the small, family environment. But this Brooklyn girl is an international star. She’s the youngest woman ever to become a World Salsa Dancing Champion. Read her story and see how she’s already paying her success forward (page 4).

I want to thank you again for your support and look forward to an even better 2015.

Sincerely,

Brendan J. Dugan ’68
President
Nursing Students Put New Technology to the Test

Walk into the new Nursing Labs at St. Francis College, and you’d be excused for thinking you left the College behind and entered a hospital emergency ward. The difference is the patients lying in bed are all robots that can simulate an almost infinite number of symptoms and problems for students to diagnose and treat.

"Having the latest technology was the most important thing we needed for our nursing program," said Dean of Special Programs Allen Burdowski. “Our students need to leave St. Francis ready for all the challenges that the real world throws at today’s nurses.”

The four year undergraduate program in Nursing and the RN to BS program mean that St. Francis can educate nurses at different stages in their development. “We take students from the beginning of the educational process and lead them right to their nursing certification exam,” said Nursing Professor Eleanor Kehoe. “To be able to train these students from the beginning gives us the opportunity to really make an impact on the quality of care in New York City.”

"Being able to go back and look precisely at how our students perform is invaluable,” said Dean Burdowski. “It lets us find mistakes and pinpoint exactly what the professors need to work on.”

Demand for the program remains high with requests for information pouring in almost every day.

The first graduates using all the new technology could be ready to become nurses in 2016.

National Grid Foundation Supports Project Access

With a $15,000 grant, the National Grid Foundation is showing its support for the College’s Project Access Program, an initiative at St. Francis College that provides extra tutoring, mentoring, and monitoring for students who may not be entirely ready for the college experience.

“National Grid Foundation believes in the value of education and the power that education has in transforming lives,” said Albert Wiltshire ‘78, Vice Chairman of the National Grid Foundation at an event on September 15 held to welcome the new class of students to the fall semester.

The funds from the Foundation will be used to increase the amount of Math, English, and Liberal Arts tutoring offered through the program, which is housed in the College’s Academic Enhancement Center.

“Students who come through the Project Access program have the opportunity to realize their dreams and fulfill their promise,” said Stefan Speazio, Director of the College’s Academic Enhancement Center. Speazio added that recognizing the true potential within the Access students is the cornerstone of the program.

Over the past 10 years more than 1,100 students have been helped by Project Access, including many who attended the event.

Eileen C. Dugan Life Sciences Center Unveiled

State Assembly Speaker Sheldon Silver headed a contingent of local politicians who came to St. Francis College on June 25 for the formal unveiling of the Eileen C. Dugan Life Sciences Center. Many of the lawmakers worked with former Assemblywoman Dugan and remembered her fondly for the hard work, dedication, and passion she poured into representing her Brooklyn constituents. The College is grateful to the elected officials who so generously set aside funding to help make the Center a reality. The Eileen Dugan Center houses brand new science labs and provides a top-flight environment for the growing number of health, science and pre-med majors at the College as well as community programs like the free Summer Science Academy for high school students.

Flipping The Script In The Classroom

Classrooms are usually set up with a teacher standing in front of the room lecturing to students. But St. Francis College Chemistry Professor Gerard Davidson has shown that it doesn’t always have to be that way. Davidson believes the standard lecture method is a less effective use of student time and often makes it more challenging for students to understand the work.

“Most people who come to work in higher education in the sciences don’t really have a background in educational pedagogy. So they’ll generally just teach the way that they were taught… which is in a lecture format,” said Davidson. “It has its good points, but at some point I realized that as I was lecturing I was missing something. There was something that wasn’t quite right.”

It was around this time Davidson attended The Biennial Conference on Chemical Education at Purdue University on 2006 and learned about the vast number of approaches he could take to educate his students.

He began to use Guided Inquiry techniques and then when technology allowed them not straight lecturing.

This practice challenges the traditional teaching environment by making the classroom a place to do homework and help one another, while home is where students gather information about the material.

Davidson’s teaching methods may be unorthodox, but he says it’s effective because it puts an emphasis on what the students do, more than what he says in class.

What’s most important to Davidson is he says students leave his courses knowing they understand the material as opposed to only remembering facts from a lecture.

New Terriers Brand Unveiled

The St. Francis Brooklyn Athletic Department unveiled new logos for the 2014-2015 season with an emphasis on integrating “Brooklyn” into the primary design. The new logos are meant to visually represent and build upon the tradition and pride of St. Francis Athletics. In addition to the new Terrier picture, the Department also introduced a shield, which will provide flexibility for future uniforms, clothing designs and printed material like program guides.

The Athletic Department is also proud to launch a redesigned sfathletics.com with an innovative focus on celebrating the achievements of Terrier student-athletes. In partnership with Syracuse, N.Y. based SIDEARM Sports, the new website will provide alumni, parents, and fans the ultimate source for information about Terrier Athletics.

The redesigned site features an adaptive design, which means you’ll see the site in the best way possible whether you check in on your phone, tablet, or pc. You’ll also be able to continue following the Terriers live with enhanced features like dynamic live stats, streaming video, and a Terrier apparel store supported by Lids.

Men’s & Women’s Basketball Set to Melt Your Winter Blues

Never has there been more excitement surrounding both Terrier basketball squads. In pre-season polls, the Men were picked to win the Northeast Conference while the Women were selected third. This comes after an impressive 2013-2014 when both programs combined for a school-record 37 victories and received numerous accolades.

Glenn Braica’s mens squad returns First Team All-Conference power forward Jalen Cannon ’15 while John Thurston’s women will look to Second Team All-Conference guard Eilidh Simpson ’15 for leadership.

The men opened the season against the Georgetown Hoyas on November 15 at the Verizon Center while the women’s squad debuted in the pre-season WNIT against Albany.

Log on to sfathletics.com for complete schedules and don’t forget to watch all home contests as well as road NEC contests on necfrontrow.com.

Abra Rummel Named Women’s Volleyball Coach

Terrier women’s volleyball begins a new chapter in the program’s history with the hiring of Coach Abra Rummel. Rummel comes to St. Francis Brooklyn from Rider University where she was First Assistant Coach. Before that she was a volunteer assistant at Princeton University.

“Our teams will play high percentage volleyball and as a result beat out tough teams because they are simply willing to out-last and out-work them,” said Rummel. “The biggest thought I want to impart is that with hard work and effort our players can and will improve”

Before coming to the east coast, Rummel was the co-head volleyball coach and a teacher at San Diego City College.

Her coaching career follows success as a player in college and on the professional level. The Arizona native played indoors and on the beach from 2008 to 2013. She earned All-Tournament honors at the 2010 USAV Adult National Championships. In 2012 she was a Main Draw Player (top 24 teams in the country) then in 2013 she played in the Premier Volleyball League for Team New England.

Abra is married to U.S. Olympic rower Henrik Rummel, who won a bronze medal in the coxless four event at the 2012 Summer Olympics.

Today’s Terriers

From the Classroom to the Ballroom: Meet Brianna Rios ’17
By Kareem Cooper ’14

Balancing your time between hobbies and everyday responsibilities can be overwhelming for some. For sophomore Brianna Rios ’17, the line between the two has begun to blur and she is now working on making her passion her profession.

Rios is a Physical Education Major at St. Francis College but in her spare time, she maintains a career as a professional salsa dancer. She began salsa dancing at four years old when her parents brought her along to watch them take a class. Rios became captivated with the craft and found herself learning amongst individuals well beyond her young age.

It hasn’t always been easy. “I’ve been missing out on parties, little get-togethers, and play dates my whole life,” said Rios. “But there are some things such as a best friend’s birthday where I’ve put dance to the side because it’s the right thing to do.”

It wasn’t long until Rios began entering salsa competitions; her success eventually led her to becoming a professional salsa dancer. She won her first World Championship at 18 years old, the youngest ever, and currently holds ten titles.

College was next on the agenda for Rios and St. Francis was the school that ended up impressing her most, “I came to an open house and I really liked the feeling. It felt like a family.”

Rios began teaching others how to dance when she was 14. Now with a physical education degree on the horizon, she hopes to one day teach dance to high school students and use the schedule flexibility to maintain her dancing career.

Annual Donor Report

A Message from Denis J. Salamone ’75, Development Committee Chairman and Thomas F. Flood, Vice President for Development

“Conversion is not a matter of changed intellectual belief but rather a process of being brought back into human community through nourishment, companionship and teaching.”

We begin by sharing a quote from a book titled The Little Flowers of St. Francis of Assisi that we feel illustrates what we, the collective St. Francis College Community, do on campus and off every day.

Do these words not capture the very essence of SFC? For over 155 years, the Small College of Big Dreams nourishes, teaches and connects Terriers from all walks of life and from all over the world. Each brings something special to the work we do to further the Franciscan legacy.

If we could, we would hand-write each and every one of our St. Francis College family members who invested in the Franciscan-values that we hold true. If distance and time did not prohibit, we would shake the hand of every donor who chooses to give of their time, talent and treasure. Since this is not possible, through this note, we offer sincere gratitude to all who contributed to the hopes, dreams and futures of our students in fiscal year 2013-14. Whether you are a student, alumnus, administrator, faculty member, staff, parent or friend — your generosity enables, empowers and ensures that the lessons learned in the classroom are brought to family, places of employment and around the world. You, and all who are listed in this Donor Report, make a difference in the lives of people you may never meet. However, be assured — those lives are forever changed by your Franciscan heart and selfless sacrifice.

As you read the following pages — revel and celebrate what you have done to make SFC what it is today. Then kindly reflect on what you will do and who you could invite to join us in ensuring that nourishment, companionship and teaching are always at the forefront of what we do as a Franciscan family.

Giving “is not a matter of changed intellectual belief but rather” a way of life that is at its core Franciscan.

With great gratitude,
— DENIS & THOMAS

I SUPPORT ST. FRANCIS BECAUSE

“I know whoever gets [my] scholarship is going to change somebody’s life in this city.”

For me, I’m investing in something from which I’ll get results. I’m not talking financially; I’m talking the graduates. The kids come prepared and all we have to do is polish them up a little bit. And when we do, at graduation, they’re different people.

If you want to contribute to the life of this city, if you care about the future of this city, you need the kind of young people who attend this college, who work hard and believe in what they do. I know whoever gets my scholarship is going to change somebody’s life significantly in this city. I really believe that, because it’s already happening.

Richard Giaquinto, Ph.D., Associate Professor and Chair of the Education Department, created the Giaquinto Family Scholarship, named in honor of his parents.

Kickstart a Dream!

Support The St. Francis College Endowed Scholarship Program Today

Since we first opened our doors in 1859, our mission has been to provide transformative education in the Franciscan tradition at an affordable cost. With the price of higher education rising, our Endowed Scholarship program has become increasingly important in bridging the gap between big dreams and reality for our future Terriers.

Every contribution makes a difference, and there are a variety of ways to join us in sustaining this mission:

- Support an Existing Scholarship. Champion a cause that is close to your heart by supporting one or more of our scholarships. Each scholarship represents a legacy, memory or the spirit of a friend, family member, faculty/staff member, or alumni of SFC. A comprehensive list can be found in this stewardship report. You can also contact our Development Office for help selecting scholarship funds that align with your passions and interests.

- Establish Your Own Scholarship with a gift commitment of $100,000 over a multi-year time horizon.

- Consider Planned Gifts such as bequests, lead trusts and gifts of insurance to endow a new Scholarship.
