I’m proud to bring you news of a remarkable year of ‘firsts’ here at St. Francis College.

For the first time, we held our Spring Commencement outside on Pier 2 of Brooklyn Bridge Park. The forecast called for rain but the clouds parted just before our graduates processed. We held an unforgettable ceremony under bright, blue skies, in the shadow of the Brooklyn Bridge (page 4).

Excitement on campus was also at record levels this past spring as Men’s Basketball won the NEC regular season title, hosted three playoff games, and qualified for the NIT for the first time in 50 years (page 10).

Women’s Basketball went on the road for their NEC playoffs and went one better, winning the NEC Championship and making the NCAA Tournament for the first time in College history.

As our Nursing program grows, we took an important step in recognizing our legacy of success and held our first White Coat ceremony. The ceremony honors our students for their dedication to becoming the best nurses they can be and the compassion they will show for their future patients (page 9).

Not everything was a first though, for alumnus Francis Roland ‘40. This spring marked the 75th anniversary of his graduation from the College (page 14).

For several years, Health Promotion Professor Starr Eaddy has guided her students in hosting an annual health fair. It’s real-world experience that gives them an edge in finding jobs after they graduate (page 8).

In this issue of Terrier, we also introduce you to two current Terriers, religious Sisters from Vietnam, who travelled halfway around the world to learn the skills they will need to change the lives of people in their home city (page 3).

The Sisters have dedicated their lives to giving back and so have hundreds of you. It’s important that we thank you for all that you do to support our educational mission. Your generosity makes it possible to maintain our affordable tuition and offer generous scholarships to keep attracting students who go out and so proudly represent St. Francis College in the community (page 18).

Looking forward to another year of firsts,
Capital One Pitch Contest

November 20, 2014 — Three students were awarded seed money to support their entrepreneurial ventures courtesy of Capital One at the second annual Student Entrepreneur Pitch Challenge. Top prize went to Korey Fisher ’16, a Business Management student who wants to leverage software and the Internet to reduce the high cost of health care.

Junot Diaz — Walt Whitman Writers Series

April 16 — The line wrapped around the block, hundreds deep, two hours before author Junot Diaz was set to become the 12th writer to speak at the Walt Whitman Writers Series. Dozens had to be turned away and 100 people watched the event via video feed from an adjoining room.

But that wasn’t good enough for the writer of The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao, which was named the best novel of the 21st century so far by BBC Culture. Diaz went into the overflow room and spent a half hour talking with the audience before the formal event began.

Diaz read from his collection of short stories, Drown, and answered questions from the editor of BuzzFeed Books, Isaac Fitzgerald, as well as from members of the audience.

“Junot Diaz is among the most influential novelists alive,” said St. Francis College English Professor Theo Gangi, who is also the director of the College Writing Program and helped to organize the event.

Stephen King

April 21 — St. Francis College and BookCourt welcomed master of horror Stephen King for a roundtable discussion with his son, Owen King, as well as authors Peter Straub and Emma Straub, Peter’s daughter. The elder King and Straub spoke about how they began their collaboration on The Talisman series while Owen King revealed that his father paid him to record books on tape when he was a child including Dune, Kidnapped and the latest Dean Koontz work. Emma Straub talked about her love of cheese and hatred for books based in Brooklyn, admitting though that the borough is the setting for her next novel.

Isaac Fitzgerald of BuzzFeed Books, moderator of the discussion.

Kenneth D. Daly — National Grid Lecture Series

April 21 — St. Francis College alumnus Ken Daly ’88, President of National Grid New York and a member of the College’s Board of Trustees, shared “Life Long Lessons in Doing the Right Thing” for the second Kenneth D. Daly — National Grid Lecture Series.

He spoke to Accounting and Management students about his life and work experience, as well as about the people who influenced his life including former bosses, teachers and friends.

“Always take actions and make decisions that you would be proud to have your friends, family and loved ones read about in the newspaper,” Daly told the students. “It’s not always easy to do the right thing, but behaving responsibly is not just an option, it is an absolute obligation.”

The Good Counselor

March 3, 4 — Communication Arts Professor Kathryn Grant’s award winning play, The Good Counselor, was performed with a cast of St. Francis College students and alumni.

The Good Counselor tells the story of a public defender’s attempt to mount a defense for a woman accused of killing her baby. As the argument spills over from the courtroom into the community, the defense lawyer must come to terms with his preconceptions about the capacities of mothers.

“I wrote this play out of my concern for the ways mothers’ feet are held to the fire both in the home and in the court of law,” says Professor Grant. “I was brought up in a home where I watched my mother struggle to raise eight children with limited resources. It seemed we expected her to perform the miraculous for her children without expending the least amount of energy on herself. I see this attitude in other homes, in our popular culture and most perniciously, in judicial systems.”

Awards in Education

The hard working members of the Xi Rho Chapter of the Kappa Delta Pi Education Honor Society gained some important recognition from the national organization. The chapter was selected as a winner of the prestigious Phoenix Awards in Education for Chapter Improvement for showing great strides in management and programming. The Honor Society also selected Chapter President Michelle Rosenberg ’15 for the Distinguished Chapter Officer Award. She is one of 17 winners out of more than 3,000 student officers. Rosenberg, Education Professor Peter Leibman ’71 and Psychology Professor Marissa Cohen, along with other officers from Xi Rho, will be honored at the Kappa Delta Pi National Convocation in October.

Kappa Delta Pi student leaders Anam Afzal ’17, Michelle Rosenberg ’15, Jillian Signer ’16, Victoria Sortino ’17, Jessica Lynch ’15, and Christina Somma ’17.

Sisters on a Mission – Srs. Maria Yeu ’17 and Mary Diep ’17

From half a world away, from the farming region of northern Vietnam, two Sisters have come to St. Francis to learn skills that they will take home with them to improve the lives of the people they serve.

Sr. Maria Yeu ’17 and Sr. Mary Diep ’17 are from the Lovers of the Holy Cross community in Phat Diem Diocese, a rural area a few hours south of Hanoi. Thanks to a sponsor from the Houston-based Formation Support for Vietnam, they came to the United States to learn how to provide medical care for the poor in their community.

Their first stop was Houston where they enrolled in ESL classes. (Learning English wasn’t their only obstacle. Both Sisters had taken the name Maria, but it proved too confusing to their ESL teacher, so Sr. Diep agreed to use the name Mary.) They then applied to and were accepted by St. Francis College and were given Presidential Scholarships.

Sr. Mary is currently working towards an undergraduate degree in Psychology while Sr. Maria is getting an undergraduate degree in nursing.

“We’ve never had a nursing home for poor and abandoned people,” said Sr. Maria who will help set up a facility in Phat Diem when she goes home. When the Sisters make house calls, they are often at a loss as to what to do since only two of the 400 members of the Congregation of the Lovers have any training in Western medicine.

Sr. Mary’s psychology degree will open up a new avenue for helping others in Phat Diem. “There is not enough help for mental health issues in Vietnam. The culture is not open to it. Our hope is that people will feel comfortable talking with a Sister about their problems,” said Sr. Mary.

Often, she said, women and children who are victims of abuse suffer in silence. She hopes her education at St. Francis can play an important role in helping them heal. She also wants to reach out to young people and help change the prevailing stigma that is associated with counseling so that they feel comfortable asking for help.

The Sisters are immensely grateful for the college’s generosity and thankful to be in a small community that makes them feel like part of a family. “Our classmates and professors have been patient and welcoming,” said Sr. Mary. “It makes us feel more confident.”

Participating in other aspects of the school has also helped integrate the Sisters into life at St. Francis. The Sisters have joined the school’s choir, and while they may lack a little confidence singing in English, Sister Mary said, “We hope that our presence as members of the choir makes a contribution to our St. Francis community.”

Being connected to the people in their world is important to the Sisters. They both believe that the kindness they have experienced at St. Francis will play a big role in helping them succeed in their mission to improve the lives of the people of Phat Diem.

We are delighted to bring you good news about Cesar Vargas ’05 who was featured in our Spring 2014 issue (Vol. 78 #1). As you may recall, Vargas, an undocumented immigrant, turned to the courts in his fight to practice law in New York state.

On June 3, 2015 the NYS Supreme Court Appellate Division ruled that Vargas could practice law, making him the state’s first undocumented immigrant admitted to the bar.

“Knowing that I can now practice law, I can continue my advocacy for immigration reform as a licensed lawyer,” Vargas told the Terrier.

“I will work to ensure that our community has the best legal services but most importantly to ensure that my law license works towards modernizing laws that no longer serve our community.”

Vargas arrived in New York from Mexico with his mother when he was five. He passed the bar exam in 2011 after graduating from CUNY School of Law that same year.

One hurdle remains: Vargas is on probation for a year for trespassing after asking a presidential candidate about immigration reform at a campaign event in Iowa. New York will not admit him while he is on probation.

You can hear Cesar talk about his journey as speaker for the 4th annual Dr. Francis J. Green Honors Lecture on Thursday, October 22 at 11:10am.

Marión Altamirano Alanís ’12 (right, in photo) has spent the last year working for one of Mexico’s largest media companies, Grupo Reforma, as a reporter for the Monterey daily newspaper, El Norte. She is also a creative producer for El Norte-Grupo Reforma’s online channel, RC Exclusivas, where she produces long-form video interviews. She has interviewed a number of Mexican and European celebrities as well as American dancers. “I get to arrange the interviews, write them, conduct them, and we even sometimes have ‘jam sessions’ with the artists if they’re musicians. I love making these interviews as I feel like I get to create mini documentaries on each person I meet.”

Graduation on the Water

Spring Commencement

MAY 19 – Gray skies turned to a bright, sunny day at Brooklyn Bridge Park for the 3,000 people celebrating St. Francis College’s Spring Commencement, the first graduation held on a pier with the Brooklyn Bridge and Lower Manhattan skyline providing a stunning backdrop.

More than 300 students walked across the stage to receive diplomas after hearing from Valedictorian Tvrtko Vrdoljak ’15, Keynote Speaker John F. Tully ’67, J.D. and honorary degree recipient former Assemblywoman Joan Millman.

Vrdoljak is the third of three brothers to come to St. Francis College from Croatia and the second valedictorian from his family. Vrdoljak carried a perfect 4.0 GPA as an economics major with minors in political science and philosophy.

He told his classmates that education at St. Francis extends far beyond the classroom. “The unmatched diversity of people, interests, cultures, and opinions that New York has exposed us to has imbued our diplomas with value that cannot be quantified. Lessons of life, friendship, love, and hard work that I have learned while living in this city, I would not change for four years anywhere else in the world.”

Vrdoljak will attend graduate school at the University of Toronto where he will study political theory. His older brother, Andrija ’07, now attends Stanford Business School while their oldest brother, Nikola ’05, works in digital marketing in Zagreb.

Keynote Speaker — John F. Tully ’67

Keynote speaker John F. Tully ’67, J.D., the chairman of the St. Francis College Board of Trustees since 2007, received an honorary degree for his service and commitment to St. Francis. He told the graduates, including his niece, Corinne Tully ’15, that “Success means different things to different people.” Mr. Tully added that to be successful, “Simply look at what you did to get here to this day. Look at what you have learned. Think of the person you are and the person you want to be … if you focus on those items you will always stay on track for the success you choose.”

A Brooklyn native, John Tully is currently of counsel to the international law firm of Norton Rose Fulbright U.S. LLP. Earlier in his legal career, Mr. Tully worked in a variety of government positions before joining the Exxon Corporation.

Honorary Degree — Joan Millman

Longtime Assemblywoman Joan Millman, who recently retired after 17 years of service in the NYS Assembly, received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree for her longtime support and years of public service.

Baccalaureate Mass

May 18 — The day before commencement, The Most Reverend Nicholas DiMarzio, Ph.D., D.D., Bishop of Brooklyn, celebrated a Baccalaureate Mass at the newly renovated St. Joseph’s Co-Cathedral. Bishop DiMarzio told the students that graduation is a “special graced moment” in their lives. He asked “that you take from it good memories into the future so that the education you have received at St. Francis College will be something that you will remember; the values communicated will be yours for life.”

Winter Commencement

January 14 — Valedictorian Tan Cheung ’15, a Hong Kong native, graduated with a bachelor’s and master’s degree in accounting. Tan transferred to St. Francis from Seattle after learning about the College’s small size and its window to the New York job market. “Because of the small classrooms you can get closer to the students and professors,” said Tan, “I could ask them about anything, not just course work. They helped me a lot with questions about jobs and internships, too.”
More Than $700,000 Raised at 54th Annual Charter Award Dinner

APRIL 29 — An amazing fundraising effort combined with an evening that honored two successful St. Francis College alumni resulted in gifts totaling more than $730,000 for the College. The 54th Annual Charter Award Dinner honored Dave Smith ’64 (Chairman, General Atlantic Group Limited) and Lou Pastina ’79 (former Executive Vice President, NYSE).

The Charter Award Dinner, which was hosted this year by CNBC’s Bob Pisani, celebrates the college’s success stories and recognizes those same alumni for their generosity in helping younger St. Francis students and graduates as they build their own careers.

Smith was introduced by his wife, Ann, and awarded a Doctorate of Humane Letters honoris causa. He told the audience, “I’ve been blessed with the opportunity to attend a college that allowed me to have expectations beyond those that were expected and the opportunity and confidence to follow those.” Smith also announced the formation of the General Atlantic Accounting Scholarship and the David D. Smith ’64 Scholarship.

Pastina recalled the late Bro. George Larkin, OSF ’60, who took him under his wing when he was a freshman: “He looked at me and said, ‘Be back here Monday — you’re working for me here in this office.’ He set me on a path those four years, set me on a trajectory that took me a long way.” Pastina has been a generous supporter of his alma mater for many years and now has the Louis G. Pastina ’79 Scholarship to honor his commitment to the College. He was also honored with a Doctorate of Humane Letters honoris causa.

State Sen. Martin Golden attended the event and read NYS Senate resolutions for both honorees.

Another highlight of the evening was when Student Government Association President Elizabeth Peralta ’15 shared her gratitude for the support, friendship and experiences she had at St. Francis. “I never thought in my life that I would be able to stand right here in front of all the people who made my dreams come true.” Peralta is now in Washington, D.C. working at the Smithsonian’s National Museum of African American History and Culture, her dream job.

A College Connection To Bestseller

MARCH 9 — Author Matthew Thomas, We Are Not Ourselves (Simon & Schuster) came to St. Francis College to help celebrate St. Patrick’s Day with a reading and discussion of his New York Times bestselling book.

The novel, about an Irish family in Queens, has a strong connection to St. Francis College, as Matthew’s family member Ronald Thomas ’64 is an alumnus of the College and several scenes in the book may have been inspired by Ronald’s time at St. Francis.

Why Med School Rejections Were Great For Ice Cream Lovers

Born in Brooklyn, Greenfield returned to the borough, bringing with him 1,000 Cherry Garcia and Half Baked ice cream bars and the story of how his rejection from 20 medical schools combined with Ben’s streak of failed business endeavors to inspire them to create Ben & Jerry’s Ice Cream. The lecture series is funded through a generous gift from Thomas J. Volpe, Chairman Emeritus of the St. Francis College Board of Trustees and a former Senior Vice President of Financial Operations for The Interpublic Group of Companies, Inc.
A Rare Glimpse into the World of St. Francis

By Alexandria Egler

In collaboration with the Franciscan Brothers of Brooklyn and Brooklyn Borough President Eric L. Adams, St. Francis College presented Frate Francesco (Friar Francis): Traces, Words, Images last winter at Brooklyn Borough Hall, an exhibit of original documents from the Middle Ages. It was the first time in more than 700 years that these rare manuscripts, some from the 12th and 13th centuries, were publicly displayed.

The artifacts offer a glimpse into the rich history of St. Francis and the development of the religious order he founded. Focusing on Francis as a friar rather than as a saint, the exhibit highlights a man who was comfortable conversing with popes and sultans as well as lepers and beggars. The exhibit divided the documents into three segments: Traces, Words, Images. Traces featured original documents including letters from Pope Honorius III and Pope Gregory IX. Most significant is a copy of Francis' poem, “Canticle of Brother Sun,” perhaps one of the earliest pieces of literature, if not the first, to be written in Italian. Francis, blind from an eye disease, is believed to have dictated it to his fellow friars.

Words featured hagiographic manuscripts about Francis, including pieces by Thomas of Celano and Bonaventura da Bagnoregio, the two most famous biographers of Francis. This area also contained a copy of the Fioretti or Little Flowers, perhaps one of the most well-known writings on St. Francis composed at the end of the 14th century, 150 years after Francis died. Images dazzled visitors with illuminated manuscripts that showcased creative and artistic renderings of Francis' spirituality and life including a cantorinus (a musical piece dedicated to Francis).

More than 2,000 people viewed the month-long exhibit, which was arranged in cases made from recycled material, a thoughtful nod to the patron saint of the environment. Professors from St. Francis College offered daily lectures and answered questions on a number of subjects including art history, medieval studies, literature, the Franciscan tradition, and Francis himself.

To see more, follow St. Francis College History Professor Bro. Geoffrey Clement, OSF as he toured the exhibit for Currents TV.
The past year was particularly notable for the publication of books by St. Francis College faculty.

Theo Gangi (English) brings us A New Day in America (Full Fathom Five Digital), a work of fiction that begins with a father’s quest to save his daughter one year after a devastating bomb and a pandemic have killed millions and destroyed NYC. “For me, A New Day in America and the post-apocalyptic genre is interesting because the stories pose an alternate world of worst case scenarios and Sophie’s choices,” said Gangi. “We know who we are when supported by our set structures. Apocalyptic literature asks: ‘Who are we when that security is gone?’

You can read more of Gangi’s work and get his first novel Bang Bang on his blog thegangi.com.

Uwe Gielen (Psychology) has co-edited with Grant Rich and written part of a new collection called Pathfinders in International Psychology (Information Age Publishing). The book features essays about 17 psychologists and psychiatrists who have played an important role in international psychology. From Franz Mesmer (1734-1815) — whose name is the foundation for the verb, mesmerize — to several living figures, the volume follows the rise of psychology from a Western proto-science to a global form of science and practice. Pathfinders is Dr. Gielen’s 22nd book. Earlier last year, Professor Gielen co-edited another book, International Counseling: Case Studies Handbook (American Counseling Association), which takes a look at how counseling and psychotherapy are approached around the world.

Emily Horowitz’s (Criminal Justice) book, Protecting Our Kids: How Sex Offender Laws Are Failing Us (Praeger) puts Dr. Horowitz squarely in the fight to change laws that she says are overly harsh and do nothing to make society safer. Since the book was released, Dr. Horowitz published an editorial in the New York Daily News, appeared on The Kelly File special on Fox News, and was quoted at length in an NBC News story.

Peter Leibman ’71 (Education) has more than 40 years of experience as an educator. He’s shared his knowledge with hundreds of St. Francis College students and now he’s looking to reach a wider audience with Launch a Teaching Career: Secrets For Aspiring Teachers (Rowman & Littlefield).

“This is the perfect time to become a full-time teacher and yet too many college graduates cannot secure a teaching position,” said Dr. Leibman, who began as a teacher in Bedford-Stuyvesant before becoming an Assistant Principal at Bishop Loughlin and later a Principal at schools on Long Island and in Westchester. “We’ve proven through the successes of our own students that there is a right way to get yourself to the head of the class.”

Gregory Tague (English) straddles the fields of liberal arts and science to take a comprehensive look at how humans develop morality in Making Mind: Moral Sense and Consciousness in Philosophy, Science, and Literature (Rodopi/Brill). “The book is an interesting study of how our species-inherited moral sense can differ dramatically from one individual to another,” writes Dr. Tague. “While mores pertain to a group, narrative comes from, and is processed by, the individual and reaches its high point in the novel.”

Faculty Spotlight: Starr Eaddy

By Kareem Cooper ’14

Anyone who takes Professor Starr Eaddy’s health promotion class should be forewarned — you’ll be doing a lot more than just studying for an exam to pass this class.

Using what they’ve learned in Dr. Eaddy’s classes, students each year organize an educational health fair for the college community. This hands-on experience gives students a chance to not only make practical use of classroom material, but also to give something back to the school, a central tenet of the college’s mission.

The students are responsible for almost everything, from figuring out which organizations and agencies to invite to showcase their services to creating the fair’s budget and raising funds to pay for any expenses. After the fair is over, students then research the effectiveness of the event, surveying participants and analyzing the results.

“When my students go out to work, they may be organizing health fairs for construction workers, medical students, or law students. They may not necessarily be members of those communities; so they really need to know how to ask questions of folks to understand their health needs,” said Eaddy.

Professor Eaddy also promotes community outreach through a partnership she developed with New York Cares, the city’s largest volunteer management organization. “It’s been an incredible partnership in terms of students having a variety of volunteer opportunities that they can tap into,” she said.

Volunteering allows students to gain work experience and build upon what they’ve learned. “The most important thing is that it helps students get connected to communities that they belong to but also communities other than their own,” said Eaddy. “You get this exposure to these different kinds of agencies and how different organizations and agencies work, but you also get documentable experience for resumes that you can use to further your career.”
Alumni Spotlight: Robert Rahn ’76

When Robert Rahn was majoring in Sociology and minoring in Criminal Justice at St. Francis College, he faced a tough decision. Rahn had been accepted into the NYPD Police Academy, the only road he could take to fulfill his dream of becoming a policeman in the Big Apple. But he hadn’t graduated yet, and he wanted his bachelor’s degree as well as to be an officer.

Fortunately, Professor Edna O’Hearn, who was the head of the sociology department at the time, stepped in. She helped arrange Rahn’s schedule so he could complete his degree and attend the Academy simultaneously.

In remembering O’Hearn’s efforts on his behalf, Rahn said, “She had a tremendous influence on the way the college worked for me and was very considerate… she made the schedule work for me. Without that, I would have dropped out.”

Rahn went on to graduate in 1976, three years after he became a policeman. After 20 years on the force, he retired in 1993, and a year later, he started his own private investigator firm. He has worked on many cases for a wide range of clients, but his most rewarding case arrived in his office in 2013.

Rahn and his partner, Kim Anklin, were contacted by the mother of a convict named Jonathan Fleming, who was serving a lengthy sentence for murder. But Fleming said he didn’t kill anyone and had already spent more than two decades wrongfully imprisoned.

Fleming was serving time for the Aug. 15, 1989 murder of Daryl “Black” Rush in the Williamsburg housing projects. Despite Fleming’s claim that he was in Orlando on the night of the murder, he was convicted and sentenced to 25 years to life.

Rahn and Anklin took on the case, clocking in over 750 hours of investigative work within a year. They travelled to Puerto Rico and South Carolina to track down witnesses and information. They obtained a statement from the driver of the getaway car, and they identified another suspect for the crime. They also uncovered a receipt proving Fleming was in Orlando.

On April 8, 2014, Fleming was finally exonerated and released from prison. Last June, the city agreed to pay him $6.25 million for his wrongful conviction.

The case attracted a lot of media attention around the world, and as a result, Rahn and Anklin received letters from many people asking for help. Rahn says these wrongful conviction cases, “are very complicated and time consuming and you can’t take more than one or two at a time.” Because of the publicity, Rahn and Fleming are in demand as speakers in various forums and schools; last year, they spoke at a St. Francis College Sociology class, which Rahn says he enjoyed.

To top it all off, last year, Rahn and Anklin were named Investigator(s) of the Year by both the Associated Licensed Detectives of NYS and the NJ Licensed Private Investigators Association.

Rahn credits St. Francis for providing him with resources to help with his PI career. “From attorneys to police officers, the professional networking from attending St. Francis is tremendous. It was a great school.”

Faculty Notes

Allen Burdowski (Dean of Academic Programs and Development) went to New Orleans for the Risk and Insurance Management Society’s (RIMS) 2015 Annual Conference and Exhibition to meet with the Spencer Educational Foundation and talk about current and planned programs in Risk Management and Insurance. St. Francis is working on building a Risk Management minor with the possibility of it becoming a full major. The Spencer Foundation works to include Risk Management in curricula to create a pipeline of talent for the insurance industry.

The NYS English Council selected Wendy Galgan (English) as a 2015 Educator of Excellence. The award is given to teachers “who are leaders in the classroom [and] collaborators with colleagues,” who challenge students to become skillful readers and writers. Professor Galgan was also selected by the New York Council for the Humanities to be a Public Scholar where she will offer presentations to non-profit organizations around New York state.

Mary Gelormino (Center for Entrepreneurship) spoke at the Metropolitan NY College Career Planning Association conference held at NYU. She spoke about “How to Advise Students Interested in Entrepreneurship.” Prof. Gelormino also participated as a judge along with Barbara Edington (Project Management) and Naomi Kinley (Career Services) for the Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship NY Metro Region Start Up contest. The three reviewed business plans presented by area high school students.

Sara Haviland (History) was named to the 40 under 40: Professors Who Inspire 2015 list by Nerd Scholar, an organization that provides tools to students to help them make informed decisions about their college educations. Nerd Scholar chooses educators who are influential in changing how students think, work and view the world. The professors are judged on a teacher’s “ability to captivate and engage students in the classroom, their outstanding involvement on campus and in the community, and their overwhelming passion for their subject matter.”

In addition to teaching history, Haviland has written the soon-to-be-published book, James and Esther Cooper Jackson: Love and Courage in the Black Freedom Movement (University Press of Kentucky).

Jennifer Wingate (Fine Arts) was selected to serve on the jury for the competition to build a National World War I Memorial in Pershing Park, Washington, DC. Wingate was selected in part because of her work documenting World War I memorials across the country in her book, Sculpting Doughboys: Memory, Gender, and Taste in America’s World War I Memorials (2013). “Many people don’t realize that more than 100,000 Americans died in World War I and we have never honored them with a national memorial.” Dr. Wingate helped whittle down more than 350 submissions to five. The winning design for Pershing Park will be selected in January.
Men’s Hoops Earns First Post-Season Berth in 50 Years

After capturing the NEC regular season championship, the men’s basketball team came up just shy of earning the program’s first NCAA tournament berth after a 70-foot shot bounced off the rim and fell to the floor as the buzzer sounded. The game against Robert Morris was featured on ESPN2 and capped a month in which Head Coach Glenn Braica’s team became the city’s media darlings and captured the imagination of the entire SFC community.

The squad tied the school record with 23 victories and competed in the prestigious National Invitation Tournament (NIT) for the first time since 1963. Power forward Jalen Cannon ’15 was named the NEC player-of-the-year and became the conference’s all-time leading rebounder, while soaring to the top of SFC’s leaderboard in both scoring and rebounding. Center Amdy Fall ’16 was named the NEC’s defensive player-of-the-year while point guard Brent Jones ’15 garnered First Team All-NEC accolades and set a new program record for career assists. Braica was named the NEC and Metropolitan Sportswriters Division I Co-Coach of the Year. In addition, he was selected as the District 18 NABC Coach of the Year and was a finalist for the Skip Prosser Man of the Year Award.

● Jalen Cannon ’15 dunks home two of his all-time career leading points.

Women’s Basketball Nets First NCAA Tournament Berth

The Terriers made history this past season as they went on the road to win three Northeast Conference Tournament games, earning the College’s first trip to an NCAA basketball tournament. Despite a first-round loss to the eventual NCAA champion UConn, fans will never forget the team’s magical run last March which ended with the team hoisting its first trophy after defeating Robert Morris on ESPNU. Guard Sarah Benedetti ’15 was named the Most Valuable Player of the conference tournament after she averaged 21.7 points per game, including a career-high 29 in the 77-62 win over Robert Morris in the title game.

Forward Jaymee Veney ’15 earned Second Team All-NEC honors and forward Leah Fechko ’16 was named to the All NEC Defensive Team. Head Coach John Thurston’s team continued to lead in the classroom as well. The Terriers finished with a 3.656 team GPA, the second highest for all NCAA Division I women’s teams and the second time in the past four years that the team placed second. The Terriers also earned the 2014-15 NEC Team Academic Award and the NEC Sportsmanship Award; voted on by the league’s head coaches.

Men’s Soccer Looking for Third Straight NEC Title

The St. Francis Brooklyn Men’s Soccer Team has begun its drive for a third straight NEC Championship after defeating Saint Francis University (Loretto, PA) 2-1 in an overtime victory to cap the 2014 season.

With a returning core of stellar players, including Vincent Bezecourt ’16, midfielder Cyril Coisne ’16, and goalkeeper Jack Binks ’16, who all made last year’s All-Tournament Team, the Terriers hope to complete the trifecta and tie for the most conference titles at seven.

Defender Andy Cormack ’15, the NEC Tournament’s Most Valuable Player, scored the golden goal on a free kick. Remarkably, the captain also scored the golden goal via a free kick in last year’s championship game over Bryant.

St. Francis Sweeps Scholar Athlete of the Year Honors

We call them Student Athletes for a reason and Katie Fox ’15 (Women’s Basketball) and David Lönnberg ’15 (Men’s Water Polo, Swimming) are two of the best. Both finished their academic careers at St. Francis College with a perfect 4.0 grade point average and both were honored with the 2014-15 Northeast Conference Scholar-Athlete of the Year award, the first time students from a single college swept the male and female awards.

Fox, an English and History double major, was a member of the Duns Scotus Honor Society and earned a post-graduate Victory Scholarship that means she’ll play professional basketball in Ireland for one year while going to graduate school at the Waterford Institute of Technology.

On the court, Fox was a three-time co-captain who started all 34 games this past season as point guard and helped engineer the team’s amazing run in the NCAA tournament. In the NEC championship win over Robert Morris, she played all 40 minutes and finished with six assists and zero turnovers. As a junior, Fox was named to the NACDA I-AAA Scholar Athlete team. She finished her career with 350 assists to rank seventh all-time at St. Francis.

Lönnberg double majored in Political Science and Economics/International Economics and was President of the Duns Scotus Honor Society. He was awarded an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship, the only water polo player to earn that award this year.

In the pool, Lönnberg helped the Terriers Men’s Water Polo team make it to back-to-back NCAA Division I Final Four championships. Each time, he also earned the Elite 89 award for highest GPA for a participating player. On the swim team, Lönnberg participated in the 1,000 freestyle, 50 butterfly, and 100 butterfly.

Terriers Answer Call to Service

From the Stephen Siller Tunnel to Towers 5K (Women’s Bowling) to the Swish for Kids Cancer Awareness Classic (Men’s Basketball), St. Francis’ student athletes were out in the community all year.

In fact, their commitment to volunteerism earned the College the Northeast Conference Building Communities Award for having the highest percentage of athletes performing community service in the conference.

Other activities included working at a homeless shelter (Women’s Tennis), helping Wounded Warriors (Men’s Water Polo), and supporting the New York City Marathon (the entire athletic department).

“Our student athletes and coaches did an outstanding job demonstrating who we really are, and living by the Franciscan Way,” said Director of Athletics Irma Garcia ’80.

New Men’s Water Polo Coach Brings Olympic Experience to Brooklyn Heights

Former Olympian Igor Zagoruiko will be calling the shots for the Men’s Water Polo Team this year. Zagoruiko has years of experience in the water and on the pool deck. He played on the Kazakhstan National Team at the 2000 and 2004 Summer Olympics. His team also won the gold medal in the 1994 and 1998 Asian Games and took the bronze in the 1995 World Military Games.

As coach, Zagoruiko was an assistant for the Kazakhstan National Team for three years. He also coached club teams to British and Turkish Championships before coming to New York.

“It’s an honor for me to become a part of the St. Francis Water Polo Program,” Zagoruiko said. “We have plans to build strong fundamentals and continue developing an unwavering commitment to the team.”

Zagoruiko takes over from Srdjan Mihaljevic ’01 who resigned after two years as Head Coach. His tenure included one trip to the NCAA Final Four.

Class Notes

1940s
John J. O’Neill ’42 recently celebrated his 95th birthday with his daughter and two sons. He has been Professor Emeritus from Temple University School of Medicine since the 1980s, and reports that after he graduated from St. Francis, he spent three and a half years in the Army before earning degrees in chemistry and biochemistry from the University of Maryland.

John Mahon ’43, ’15 was presented with an honorary degree by Vice President for Development Thomas F. Flood and Rocky the Terrier on the occasion of his and Betty’s 65th wedding anniversary. Mahon left St. Francis to serve his county during World War II. For many years he had one BIG DREAM — to receive his SFC degree. He is now officially a member of the Class of 2015 and 1943.

Tom Nardo ’48 of Richmond, VA celebrated his 90th birthday with the Terriers. He was so proud that the Men’s Basketball Team made it to the NIT that he bought tickets and watched them courtside in Richmond with his grandchildren, Alexis (wearing a vintage SFC sweatshirt) and Logan, as well as Director of Athletics Irma Garcia ’80.

Daniel D’Errico ’50 currently resides in Fredericksburg, VA. He is a widower since the death of his wife, Carline, in 2011, and remembers fondly his days as Alumni President. He sends his regards to his fellow 1950 alumni on the celebration of their 65th Anniversary.

William J. Brooks ’51 and his wife, Maxine, live at Shell Point, a big retirement resort community in southwest Florida. They love hearing from old classmates, so get in touch!

Gerard J. Baxter, USMC ’55 and his wife, Alice, are still busy in the senior communities of both Rockaway, NJ and Vero Beach, FL. Gerard still has his antiques and collectibles business in Andover, NJ while his wife recently retired from real estate. He sends much peace, joy, love and laughter to his fellow alumni.

Michael J. McPartland ’57 has been a teacher for 55 years, and has been at CUNY/Kingsborough Community College in Brooklyn for the past 22 years. He credits his happiness in teaching to his English professors at St. Francis who helped put him on the path to a great career.

Harold J. Martin ’61 reports that after he graduated from St. Francis, he received his teaching credentials as well as a law degree. He sends a special “shout out” to the Key Lords, an SFC singing group from 1957-1958.

Edward D. O’Brien ’62 and his wife, Anne, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in August 2014, in the company of many friends and family members as well as most of their bridal party.

Stephen P. Keller ’64 reports his radiation therapy concluded in March and he had his prostate-specific antigen test this past May. He is happy to report that the prognosis is good with this type of treatment.

Francis “Frank” P. Roland ’40

By Alison Lowenstein

When Frank Roland’s graduating class celebrated its 75th anniversary last June, he was its lone surviving member. An inauspicious position, perhaps, but Roland continues to embrace life, viewing his world with a sense of humor and understanding that he has much for which to be grateful.

Roland says that the school had an enormous impact on his life, and not just from the education he received at the hands of inspiring professors including Francis Delaney, Bro. Leo, Bro. Columba, and Charlie Shaem. One college friend became a clergyman and presided over his first marriage. Obviously a lot has changed since Frank bid farewell to the halls of St. Francis. Back in 1940, the school charged $5 a credit, and the United States was on the brink of war. Several months after graduation, Roland was drafted into the Army and served his country in the Pacific. He was a decorated soldier by the time he left military service in 1945 having attained the rank of captain. He remained in the reserves for 10 more years.

While the war tore apart millions of families, Roland’s earlier years had been fraught with sadness as well. A first-generation American, he was one of 13 children. Tragically, his parents died when he was six, and he wound up in an orphanage.

After attending St. Augustine’s High School, Brooklyn, he told Monsignor Lawrence Bracken at St. Vincent’s Home for Boys in Brooklyn that he wanted to attend college. It was to be the first of many goals that he set for himself and that he achieved. Roland entered St. Francis, embracing campus life, and ultimately was the Vice President of his class, a member of the history club and a participant in many other activities as well.

After the war, Roland attended and graduated from St. John’s Law School. He spent most of his work career at Equitable Life Insurance in the underwriting department until his retirement in 1980.

Noted for his strong sense of humor — he had heart surgery on St. Patrick’s Day and thanked the surgeons for wearing green — he has approached life with a sense of adventure. In addition to writing poetry, he took up skiing at age 50, and regularly skied 100 days per season at Okemo Mountain, Vermont, earning admittance into the “90 plus ski club.”

Although he had to stop skiing shortly after joining that club, he continued to mow his own lawn until his heart surgery at Winthrop-University Hospital at age 96.

He raised his three kids in Mineola, Long Island, and the family spent many happy summers on the east end where he now lives full-time. A father, grandfather, great-grandfather, and twice a widower, Roland has always valued family, and he still lives near his children.

The Dr. Donald Metz ‘47 Scholarship Committee thanks those who contributed this past spring to the Dr. Donald Metz ‘47 Scholarship Fund. The Committee hopes to fully fund this scholarship within the next year and are well on our way to meeting that goal.

Dr. Donald Metz, who died in 1999, was an alumus and member of the faculty from 1951 through 1981. He spent most of that time teaching chemistry and physics pro bono on Saturdays while serving as Director at Brookhaven National Laboratory in the Nuclear Engineering Department.

In 1984, the centennial of St. Francis receiving its Charter, Dr. Metz was recognized as one of the College’s two most prominent alumni. You can read more about him in the NY Times article, “Lives Lived Well And the Lessons That They Teach” (12/26/99). If you would like to help commemorate this true Franciscan, contributions can be made through http://metz.kintera.org.

George C. Bergleitner, Jr. ’59 was elected Vice Chairman of the Delaware County (NY) Republican Committee. He is also happy to announce the birth of his new grandchild, Jacob Michael Bergleitner. George has three sons. He is also Chairman (and founder) of the Christmas Feeling Feeling Fund based in Stamford, NY, which last year raised $25,000 for needy families in Delaware County.
Henry E. Riehl '64 is proud to report that his son, Matt, now has his own law practice in Wyoming.

Joseph E. Scalia '64 is a writer and painter. You can see his watercolors at josephescalia.com, where you can also buy his books.

Thomas M. Laquercia, Esq. '66 is the proud grandfather of Philip Antonio Laquercia, born October 2014 to Justin and Maria Anjelica on Justin’s 35th birthday.

William “Billy” O’Connell '66 was elected to the Huntington Beach City Council (California) in his third attempt running for the office. He is the founder and director of Colette’s Children’s Home, which provides homeless single women and homeless mothers and their children a safe home where they can obtain the support and services they need to get back on their feet.

John P. Russell ’67 is extremely grateful for the excellent education he received at St. Francis College. He considers Dr. Arthur Hughes, James Flynn and Frank Altimari to be the best teachers he had in his life, and looks at Mr. Joseph Castronovo as an administrator who “got it right with Humanity.”

James M. Theisen '67 worked in development for over 35 years, and praises SFC on its efforts.

Thomas J. Killeen '69 recently received the Community Champion, Friend and Advocate Award at the Crohn’s and Colitis Foundation of America’s “Laugh ‘til It Stops Hurting” event held this past April at Glen Oaks Club, Old Westbury, NY.

Paul A. Murphy '69 was sorry to hear of Dr. Arthur Hughes’ passing and wishes he could have attended the 2014 History and Political Science Reunion and wishes he could have attended the 2014 History and Political Science Reunion and wishes he could have attended the 2014 History and Political Science Reunion and wishes he could have attended the 2014 History and Political Science Reunion.

Ellen M. Leonardi Miseo, APN, ’76 has joined the editorial advisory board of Spectroscopy magazine. She has practiced vibrational spectroscopy throughout her career, and has developed new instrumentation, commercialized new techniques, and anticipated new trends in the industry.

Robert Huzinec ’77 received the confectionery industry’s highest honor when he was inducted into the National Confectionery Sales Association Candy Hall of Fame. He lives in Hummelstown, PA with his family and works for The Hershey Company in their Global Product Development Department in the Sweets and Refreshment Group.

Steven Virgadamo ’77 was appointed Associate Superintendent for Leadership Formation for the Archdiocese of New York. He oversees all archdiocesan efforts related to identifying, recruiting, developing and retaining administrators and teachers and also supports prospective, new and veteran principals. Mr. Virgadamo has served in Catholic education and the Catholic Church for more than 30 years. “After working to enhance and transform Catholic education in more than 100 dioceses and thousands of Catholic schools, I am pleased to return to my roots in NYC and take on this role with the Archdiocese of New York.”

Mr. Brian J. Smith ’78 was recently honored with the 2015 Irish Echo Law and Order Award in a ceremony that took place this past January at the Manhattan Club in NYC.

Irina Garcia ’80 was awarded the 2015 Administrator of the Year Award for NCAA Division I FCS by the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWA).

Mary E. Callahan ’80 is serving her second term as president of the Marion County Sheriff’s Office Foundation (Florida), a 1,500 member, non-profit organization.

Kevin J. Hinchy ’80 was named Branch Manager at the Community Resource Federal Credit Union branch in Latham, NY.

Gaetano Messina ’80 was recently honored at the 2015 NYC Soccer Gala held at the New York Athletic Club in Manhattan. The event honors those involved in the past and present of New York City soccer, and those who have contributed to its success.

Jim Sheahan ’80 was recently inducted into the St. James/Bishop Loughlin Brother Aurelius James McManus Athletic Hall of Fame for his accomplishments on the basketball court.

Mark J. Long ’82 is now portfolio manager of Sterling National Bank, and provides financing solutions to clients in the metropolitan New York and Mid-Atlantic regions.

James E. Leonard ’83 has been appointed Chief of Department, the highest ranking uniformed position in the FDNY. Chief Leonard will oversee the Department’s 15,000 uniformed firefighters and EMS personnel and four major agency bureaus: Fire Operations, EMS Operations, Training, and Fire Prevention.

Walton D. Pearson ’83 is a managing director and senior portfolio manager at Brown Capital Management, and is a member of the Alex Brown Center for Entrepreneurship at the University of Maryland Baltimore County. He is also a member of the board of trustees of the Baltimore Community Foundation.

Glenn ’84 and Theresa ’88 Huzinec are proud to report that their daughter, Monica, will begin Macaulay Honors College at Hunter College this September on a full-tuition academic scholarship, while their daughter, Colleen, has received a scholarship to Notre Dame Academy.
Madalyn Hanley '80 graduated from St. Francis and a week later began working for Brooklyn Union Gas. Thirty-four years later, she’s reversed that path, returning to her alma mater as chief information officer (CIO).

A Business Management major, Hanley joined the management training program at Brooklyn Union and requested a job in the computer programming division. She says her strong background in math and logic were a perfect match for a field that was still in its infancy.

She spent the next three decades with Brooklyn Union, then KeySpan, and ultimately National Grid, in a variety of senior management positions: programmer, systems analyst, manager of major corporate application systems, data warehouses, and project management offices. Hanley was also instrumental in leading the company’s IT division through a number of mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures. She even spent nearly three decades with Brooklyn Union, then KeySpan, and ultimately National Grid, in a variety of senior management positions: programmer, systems analyst, manager of major corporate application systems, data warehouses, and project management offices. Hanley was also instrumental in leading the company’s IT division through a number of mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures.

As retirement from National Grid drew near, Hanley began teaching Leadership and Management courses at St. Joseph's College in Brooklyn. But when the CIO position opened at St. Francis College, she quickly decided to return to Brooklyn Heights to tackle the technology challenges of college life.

“We used to live in a world where technology was scary and people kept their distance. Now it’s such a big part of our lives,” said Hanley. “People are so tech savvy today but very few people understand that it’s a much bigger task to provide a stable, secure environment where technology can grow and thrive.”

Hanley’s husband, Ed ’80, and son, Michael ’10, are also St. Francis graduates.

Caitlin Smith Gison '03 was recently appointed academic dean and tutor in Philosophy and Theology at Newman College in Ireland. Her most recent book The Political Dialogue of Nature and Grace: Toward a Phenomenology of Chaste Anarchism will be published in September.

Deana M. Agostino ’05 and her husband, Sandro, are the proud parents of Gianna Reese who was born last August.

Makwinder Kaur-McNeil ’05 and her husband, Chris McNeil, are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Kiran Ajooj Kaur-McNeil, born last November. Kaur-McNeil is an Adjunct Instructor at the College, while her husband is SFC’s Director of Support Services.

Antonevia ’04 and Julian ‘06 Oddman are now the proud parents of Myles Oddman, born last May. Myles is the couple’s second child, and joins big brother, Noah.

Amanda Pileggi ’07 is now president of the Women Lawyers Association, Mid-Michigan Chapter. Pileggi practices law as a member of the litigation group at Willingham & Coté in East Lansing. She earned her JD from Michigan State University College of Law.

John P. Montes ’09 recently won Shamrock Shuffle 10K race in Summerville, SC, with a time of 37 minutes, 25 seconds. Montes is a U.S. Air Force logistics officer, and lives in North Charleston, SC.

Joseph ’09, Alan ’10, and Steven ’14 Stuto are all following in their father’s footsteps and pursuing podiatry. Joseph and Alan are completing their podiatric residency training, while Steven is in his first year of podiatric education. Their father, Dr. Joseph C. Stuto, oversees two practices, one located on Remsen Street, one block from the College.

Stephanie Tineo ‘11 is now a clinical assistant at Mt. Sinai Hospital in Manhattan.

Ben Feuerherd ‘12 has been reporting for the New York Post for about one and a half years and is now working from the press room at One Police Plaza. He recently had a big “get” when he snagged an exclusive interview with the lone juror holdout on the Etan Patz murder trial. “It really was a great feeling to have all of the New York media chasing after my story. I was in Baltimore the week before covering the uprisings after the death of Freddie Gray, then came back and got that interview. Those two weeks really gave me a sense that even a local newspaper reporter like me can cover national news. It just takes the effort.” Feuerherd’s interview was credited in The New York Times and The Washington Post.

Nicole Scafo ‘15 was named a Woodrow Wilson New Jersey Teaching Fellow which provides a $30,000 scholarship to attend Montclair State University’s Master’s Program in Education. In exchange Scafo agrees to teach three years in urban and rural New Jersey schools that most need strong STEM teachers.

Michelle Angarita Ramirez ’16 wed Jon Pejap ’15 at New York City Hall.

2010s

Thalita Paladino Isailovic '11 wed Aleksandar Isailovic '14 at Boca Dunes Country Club in Boca Raton, FL. In attendance were fellow Terriers, Zoltan Danko ’12, Marko Dedovic ’10, Andrea Dolan ’12, Melissa Manning ’10, Matthew Milk ’14, Lily Rodriguez ’11, and Paloma Szivas ’13.

Maria Caramico Blandino ’03 and her husband, Gaetano, are the proud parents of Valentina Marie, born this past July. Maria is associate director of financial aid at the College.

Christopher Johnsey ’99 established the Sacramento-based risk management consulting firm riskthinktank in June 2014. As principal, he provides enterprise risk management consulting services to public entities, corporations, private equity, and non-profits. riskthinktank.com

2000s

Mark Nurse ’98 is managing director of portfolio management and relationship management of The Glenmede Trust Company in Princeton, NJ. He was previously investment director for PNC Wealth Management in New Jersey.

Tamás Bakacs ’99 is now a member of the Advisory Board of Skyharbour Resources Ltd. He is also a portfolio manager at ACCESS Fund Management Ltd., where he manages a junior mining-focused commodity equity fund in Budapest, Hungary.

Paul A. Morisi ’06 recently wed Alison Laird. The couple took part in a program called Sposi Novelli, in which newlywed couples meet with and are blessed by the Pope in St. Peter’s Square, Vatican City, Rome. The couple spoke with Pope Francis and told him of the love the Diocese of Brooklyn has for his holiness.

Sarah M. Bratton Hughes ’07 and her husband, Andrew, are now the proud parents of Andrew James Hughes, born this past July.

ST. FRANCIS COLLEGE TERRIER | FALL 2015 | 17
Pope Francis arrives in the USA shortly for his visit with a theme and message. Love is Our Mission — the Family Fully Alive. St. Francis College has embraced this call to action each and every day for over 156 years. Our Terrier Family, which includes alumni, parents, friends, and other loved ones, selflessly sacrifice so that others can live their BIG DREAMS. This “thank you” report is evidence that our family is fully alive.

When we ask people why they give to SFC, we hear answers like: “We want to give others the same chance that others gave to us,” “We want to live up to the promise we made to Brother George and Dr. Macchiarola to pay it forward,” “We want to change lives through the gift of education” and finally, “We believe in the Small College and Big Dreams — it is the best value proposition around.” Regardless of the answer, at the core — all give out of love.

Pope Francis has shared the following words with young people across the globe, “Do not bury your talents, the gifts God has given you. Do not be afraid to dream of great things!”

SFC understands promise, works in partnership with the students to grow talent and encourages all to not only dream but do great things. This past school year, many great things happened — the basketball and soccer teams had championship runs with the women earning a first-ever NCAA berth, SFC had its first white coat ceremony for its nursing program, and for the first time, we had an outdoor graduation at Brooklyn Bridge Park, to name just a few. We share these testimonials because through your past support, you help talents mature and make the dream of doing great things a reality.

Needless to say, there are more stories to be written, more talents to be unearthed, more dreams to be realized, and finally, more great things that await St. Francis College. Know the reason we ask is so generations of Terriers have the help and support they need to live the Big Dreams. We hope you continue to give, and others join you understanding that love is our mission.

As you peruse the following pages — know we thank and congratulate the SFC family for what you do today, tomorrow and always. Big Dreams are possible when you have a family fully alive and sharing their time, talent, and treasure.

With great gratitude,
— DENIS & THOMAS

LASTING SUPPORT STARTS WITH A PLANNED GIVING

JOIN THE ST. CLARE SOCIETY Recognition you deserve for the Legacy you leave

You probably belong to more clubs than you realize. Chances are, your wallet contains at least one hotel, airline, auto or restaurant loyalty club card. Maybe you are a member of a country club, a bridge club or other social group.

Clubs are everywhere. You may already be qualified to join one with significant rewards. One that celebrates the words of our patron — it is in giving that we receive. If you have made a planned gift of any type or size to St. Francis College, then you are automatically eligible for membership in our legacy society called the St. Clare Society.

We created the St. Clare Society to honor the generosity of people like you. We want to make sure you know how much we appreciate you and your gift. When you join our legacy society, we can also get to know you and make sure that we use your gift in the way you intend.

Thanks for giving and believing in the legacy of St. Francis College.

WHAT IS THE ST. CLARE SOCIETY?

The Society is named for St. Clare who befriended St. Francis of Assisi. She assisted the early Franciscans with her family’s resources and later by founding a community of Franciscan women, now known as the Poor Clares, to collaborate with and encourage the Franciscan mission.

Benefits of membership in the St. Clare Society include:
- being remembered in a special way at the College’s weekly celebrations of the Eucharist and at our Annual Alumni Mass;
- having your name listed in the Annual Report;
- receiving invitations to all local St. Francis College special events and to any special College events planned for their region;
- having the satisfaction of knowing that as St. Francis proclaimed in his most famous prayer that “It is in giving that we receive.”

Support The St. Francis College Endowed Scholarship Program Today

Since we first opened our doors in 1859, our mission has been to provide transformative education in the Franciscan tradition at an affordable cost. With the price of higher education rising, our Endowed Scholarship program has become increasingly important in bridging the gap between big dreams and reality for our future Terriers.

Every contribution makes a difference, and there are a variety of ways to join us in sustaining this mission:

- Support an Existing Scholarship. Champion a cause that is close to your heart by supporting one or more of our scholarships. Each scholarship represents a legacy, memory or the spirit of a friend, family member, faculty/staff member, or alumni of SFC. A comprehensive list can be found in this stewardship report. You can also contact our Development Office for help selecting scholarship funds that align with your passions and interests.

- Establish Your Own Scholarship with a gift commitment of $100,000 over a multi-year time horizon.

- Consider Planned Gifts such as bequests, lead trusts and gifts of insurance to endow a new Scholarship.

E-mail us at development@sfc.edu or call 718.489.5361
