St. Francis College, Brooklyn (the “College” or “SFC”) is embarking on an ambitious plan to revitalize the College even as it remains true to its core mission: private, independent, co-educational, urban college whose Franciscan and Catholic traditions underpin its commitment to academic excellence, spiritual and moral values, social responsibility, and life-long learning. As a College rooted in a commitment to radical hospitality, to character formation, to inter-faith dialogue, to creating conditions so that students will learn the technical skills necessary to navigate a 21st Century workplace while never losing sight of the importance of ensuring that all students learn to cultivate their humanity, the College is expanding its offerings, its services and the ways it engages in and beyond its campus. In short, it is an exciting time to join the St. Francis College Community.

Position Summary: St. Francis College is seeking highly motivated professors and scholars who will work with a diverse faculty and student body to teach courses in a variety of modalities. An ideal candidate will be broadly trained in the field of Biology and should have the ability and willingness to teach a broad array of courses within the field; expertise in teaching genetics, ecology, microbiology or immunology lecture and lab courses are preferred. A successful candidate is also expected to teach advanced Biology courses in their area of expertise. Commensurate with a faculty appointment at the Assistant Professor level, the successful candidate will also be expected to conduct research, mentor students, and participate in College-wide and departmental service. In addition, St. Francis College places special emphasis on providing students with research and internship opportunities.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Ph.D. degree in Biology or closely related field
- Specialization in Genetics, Ecology, Microbiology and Immunology
- Demonstrated understanding of uses of technology for multimodal learning
- Culturally sensitive, caring and friendly with a deep understanding and appreciation of an inclusive college community and the Franciscan traditions of St. Francis College.
- Ability to work with a diverse student and staff population

About St. Francis College:

St. Francis College is strongly committed to diversity and inclusion on our campus and all qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to age, race, creed, color, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, military status, sex, disability, predisposing genetic characteristics, familial status, marital status, status as a victim of domestic violence or any other characteristic protected by law. We are an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity employer and we are committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty, staff, students, and the curriculum. Qualified candidates of diverse backgrounds are therefore encouraged to apply.
For over 150 years, the mission of St. Francis has been to provide an affordable, quality education to working class people who otherwise may not be able to attend college. We educate the whole person for a full, relational life, developing the students' talents and abilities for meaningful, fulfilling careers, as well as for collaborative, service-oriented leadership. The College strives to offer ample opportunities for students to immerse themselves in the intellectual, cultural and professional opportunities afforded by New York City and to serve the needs of the local community in which they live and study. Our location in Brooklyn Heights provides a confluence of cultures and religious beliefs, mirroring our commitment to maintain and celebrate our diverse student body.
